(the "Company"), is a wholly owned subsidiary directly of Caja de Ahorros y Monte de Piedad de Madrid (a Spanish saving institution, the "Parent" and part of the Caja Madrid Group). The company was established on March 16, 1999 as a private company with limited liability for an indefinite period of time under the laws of The Netherlands.

The principal executive office of the company is Naritaweg 165 Telestone 8, 1043 BW Amsterdam, The Netherlands.

The Company's principal activity is to act as a financing entity. The objectives for which the Company is established are to issue subordinated bonds guaranteed by the Parent; to enter into other financial transactions; and to lend the proceeds received to its Parent.

(2) SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a) General

The Company's financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Netherlands and comply the financial requirements introduced in Part 9 of Book 2 of the Netherlands Civil Code. The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The financial statements are prepared under the historical cost convention. Assets and liabilities are stated at nominal value, unless indicated otherwise. If deemed necessary, a provision is deducted from the nominal amount of accounts receivable.

b) Interest Income and Expense

Interest income and expense are recorded on an accrual basis.

Interest income and expense are calculated using the effective interest rate. Effective interest rate is the interest rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments or receipts through the expected life of the financial instrument to the net carrying amount of the financial asset or liability. The calculation of the effective interest rate includes all fees and points received or paid between the parts of the contract, transactions costs and all other premiums or discounts.

c) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and Cash Equivalents include cash on hand and cash with banks. Cash equivalents are short-term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash with original maturities of three months or less and that are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value. Cash is held in a current account at the parent company.

d) Corporate income tax

The expense for corporate income tax of each year is calculated on the basis of income before taxes, increased or decreased, as appropriate, by the permanent differences from taxable income, net of tax relief and tax credits, excluding tax withholdings and prepayments.

In accordance with the Netherlands regulation, corporate income tax is levied at the rate of 20% on the first EUR 25,000 of the total taxable profit, 23.5% on the amounts of the total taxable profit from EUR 25,000 to EUR 60,000, and 25.5% on the amounts of the total taxable profit exceeding EUR 60,000.

e) Investments and Liabilities

Investments with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturity that the Company has the positive intent and ability to hold to maturity are classified as loans to parent company.

Loans to parent company included in non-current assets unless they mature within 12 months of the balance sheet date.

Subordinated bonds issues are included in non-current liabilities unless they mature within 12 months of the balance sheet date. They are disclosed on these financial statements (see Note 5) at their amortized cost.

f) Derivatives

According with Accounting Principles generally accepted in the Netherlands, the Swap agreement is carried off balance. Gains or losses arising from changes in interest rates are recognised in the statement of operations for the period in which they arise and to the extent that they hedge an asset or liability that has been recognised on the balance sheet. Gains and losses relating to derivative financial instruments entered into as hedges or firm commitments are deferred until the hedged transactions have been reflected in the balance sheet. No fair value adjustments on derivative instruments are accounted for under Dutch generally accepted accounting principles.
