RISK FACTORS

The Issuer believes that the following factors may affect its ability to fulfil its obligations under the Securities. Most of these factors are contingencies which may or may not occur and the Issuer is not in a position to express a view on the likelihood of any such contingency occurring.

In addition, factors which are material for the purpose of assessing the market risks associated with Securities issued are also described below.

The Issuer believes that the factors described below represent the principal risks inherent in investing in Securities issued, but the inability of the Issuer to pay interest, principal or other amounts on or in connection with any Securities, or to perform any delivery obligations in relation to the Securities, may occur for other reasons and the Issuer does not represent that the statements below regarding the risks of holding any Securities are exhaustive. Prospective investors should also read the detailed information set out elsewhere in this Prospectus and reach their own views prior to making any investment decision.

Before making an investment decision with respect to any Securities, prospective investors should consult their own stockbroker, bank manager, lawyer, accountant or other financial, legal and tax advisers and carefully review the risks entailed by an investment in the Securities and consider such an investment decision in the light of the prospective investor's personal circumstances.

Words and expressions defined elsewhere in this Prospectus shall have the same meaning in this section.

Part A – General Risk Factors

Factors that may affect the Issuer's ability to fulfil its obligations under Securities issued

Each potential investor in the Securities should refer to the Risk Factors section of the Registration Document (as defined below) incorporated by reference in this Prospectus for a description of those factors which may affect the Issuer's ability to fulfil its obligations under the Securities.

Factors which are material for the purpose of assessing the market risks associated with the Securities

The Securities are notes which entail particular risks

The Securities are investment instruments which may or may not pay interest and which at maturity or earlier termination pay a Cash Amount which may or may not be equal to the nominal amount of the relevant Security. As such, each Security will entail particular risks. Because the interest amount paid is dependent upon the performance of the Underlying Funds, as such, this may result in the Holder receiving no or only a limited return on his investment.

The price at which a Holder will be able to sell Securities prior to their redemption may be at a potentially substantial discount to the market value of the Securities at the issue date depending upon the performance of the Underlying Funds at the time of sale.

The Securities may not be a suitable investment for all investors

Each potential investor in the Securities must determine the suitability of that investment in light of its own circumstances. In particular, each potential investor should:

- (a) have sufficient knowledge and experience to make a meaningful evaluation of the Securities, the merits and risks of investing in the Securities and the information contained or incorporated by reference in this Prospectus;
- (b) have access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate, in the context of its particular financial situation, an investment in the Securities and the impact the Securities will have on its overall investment portfolio;
- (c) have sufficient financial resources and liquidity to bear all of the risks of an investment in the Securities, including Securities with principal or interest payable in one or more currencies, or where the currency for principal or interest payments is different from the potential investor's currency;
- (d) understand thoroughly the terms of the Securities and be familiar with the behaviour of any relevant indices and financial markets; and
- (e) be able to evaluate (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser) possible scenarios for economic, interest rate and other factors that may affect its investment and its ability to bear the applicable risks.

The Securities are complex financial instruments. Sophisticated institutional investors generally do not purchase complex financial instruments as stand-alone investments. They purchase complex financial instruments as a way to reduce risk or enhance yield with an understood, measured, appropriate addition of risk to their overall portfolios. A potential investor should not invest in the Securities unless it has the expertise (either alone or with a financial adviser) to evaluate how the Securities will perform under changing conditions, the resulting effects on the value of the Securities and the impact this investment will have on the potential investor's overall investment portfolio.

The value of the Securities may fluctuate

The value of the Securities may move up and down between their date of purchase and their exercise date. Holders of Securities (the “Holders”) may sustain a significant loss of their investment. Prospective purchasers should therefore ensure that they understand fully the nature of the Securities before they invest in the Securities.

Several factors, many of which are beyond the Issuer's control, will influence the value of the Securities at any time, including the following:

- (a) Valuation of the Underlying Funds. The market price of the Securities at any time is expected to be affected primarily by changes in the level of the Underlying Funds. For the risks related to the Underlying Funds, please see Part B below. It is impossible to predict how the level of the Underlying Funds will vary over time. Factors which may have an affect on the value of the Underlying Funds include the rate of return of the Underlying Funds and the financial position and prospects of the issuers of those securities which comprise each of the Underlying Funds. In addition, the level of the respective Underlying Funds may depend on a number of interrelated factors, including economic, financial and political events and their effect on the capital markets generally and relevant stock exchanges. Potential investors should also note that whilst the market value of the Securities is linked to the Underlying Funds and will be influenced (positively or negatively) by it, any change may not be comparable and may be disproportionate. It is possible that while the Underlying Funds are increasing in value, the value of the Securities may fall. Further, where no market value is available for the Underlying Funds, the Calculation Agent may determine its value to be zero notwithstanding the fact that there may be no Market Disruption Event and/or Underlying Fund Adjustment Event and/or Merger, Nationalisation and Insolvency Event and/or no Potential Adjustment Events which apply.
- (b) Interest Rates. Investments in the Securities may involve interest rate risk with respect to the currency of denomination of the Underlying Funds and/or the Securities. A variety of factors influence interest rates such as macro economic, governmental, speculative and market sentiment factors. Such fluctuations may have an impact on the value of the Securities at any time prior to valuation of the Underlying Funds relating to the Securities.
- (c) Volatility. The term “volatility” refers to the actual and anticipated frequency and magnitude of changes of the market price with respect to the Underlying Funds. Volatility is affected by a number of factors such as macro economic factors, speculative trading and supply and demand in the options, futures and other derivatives markets. Volatility of the Underlying Funds will move up and down over time (sometimes more sharply than others).
- (d) Exchange Rates. Even where payments in respect of the Securities are not expressly linked to a rate or rates of exchange between currencies, the value of the Securities could, in certain circumstances, be affected by such factors as fluctuations in the rates of exchange between any currency in which any payment in respect of the Securities is to be made and any currency in which the Underlying Funds are traded, appreciation or depreciation of any such currencies and any existing or future governmental or other restrictions on the exchangeability of such currencies. There can be no assurance that rates of exchange between any relevant currencies which are current rates at the date of issue of the Securities will be representative of the relevant rates of exchange used in computing the value of the Securities at any time thereafter.

- (e) Disruption. If so indicated in the Conditions, the Calculation Agent may determine that a Market Disruption Event has occurred or exists at a relevant time. Any such determination may affect the value of the Securities and/or may delay settlement in respect of the Securities.

Prospective purchasers should review the Conditions to ascertain whether and how such provisions apply to the Securities.

- (f) Creditworthiness. Any person who purchases the Securities is relying upon the creditworthiness of the Issuer and of Holding (pursuant to its declaration under Article 2:403 of the Netherlands Civil Code) and has no rights against any other person. The Securities constitute general, unsecured, contractual obligations of the Issuer and of no other person. The Securities rank pari passu among themselves. If either the Issuer or Holding becomes unable for any reason to fulfil its obligations then the Holder may suffer a total loss of principal.

There may not be a secondary market in the Securities

Potential investors should be willing to hold the Securities through their life. The nature and extent of any secondary market in the Securities cannot be predicted. As a consequence any person intending to hold the Securities should consider liquidity in the Securities as a risk. If the Securities are listed or quoted on an exchange or quotation system this does not imply greater or lesser liquidity than if equivalent Securities were not so listed or quoted. However, if Securities are not listed or quoted there may be a lack of transparency with regard to pricing information. Liquidity may also be affected by legal restrictions on offers for sale in certain jurisdictions. The Issuer may affect the liquidity of the Securities by purchasing and holding the Securities for its own account during trading in the secondary market. Any such Securities may be resold at any time into the market.

Purchasing the Securities as a hedge may not be effective

Any person intending to use the Securities as a hedge instrument should recognise the correlation risk. The Securities may not be a perfect hedge to the Underlying Funds or portfolio of which the Underlying Funds forms a part. In addition, it may not be possible to liquidate the Securities at a level which directly reflects the price of the Underlying Funds.

Actions taken by the Issuer may affect the value of the Securities

The Issuer and/or any of its affiliates may carry out activities that minimise its and/or their risks related to the Securities, including effecting transactions for their own account or for the account of their customers and hold long or short positions in the Underlying Funds whether for risk reduction purposes or otherwise. In addition, in connection with the offering of any Securities, the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates may enter into one or more hedging transactions with respect to the Underlying Funds. In connection with such hedging or market-making activities or with respect to proprietary or other trading activities by the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates, the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates may enter into transactions in the Underlying Funds which may affect the market price, liquidity or value of the Underlying Funds and/or the Securities and which could be deemed to be adverse to the interests of the Holders. The Issuer and/or its affiliates are likely to modify their hedging positions throughout the life of the Securities whether by effecting transactions in the Underlying Funds or in derivatives linked to the Underlying Funds. Further, it is possible that the advisory services which the Issuer and/or its affiliates provide in the ordinary course of its/their business could lead to an adverse impact on the value of the Underlying Funds.

Holders have no ownership of the Underlying Funds

The Securities constitute a notional investment in the Underlying Funds. This means that the Securities convey no ownership of the Underlying Funds. The Issuer may choose not to hold the Underlying Funds or any derivatives contracts linked to the Underlying Funds. There is no restriction through the issue of the Securities on the ability of the Issuer and/or its affiliates to sell, pledge or otherwise convey all right, title and interest in any Underlying Funds or any derivatives contracts linked to the Underlying Funds. Holders will not have voting rights nor any other rights in the Index Components, and will not be entitled to receive physical delivery of any of the Index Components at any time.

Fees and Costs

Certain fees are notionally paid from the Index and equivalent amounts paid to a number of parties who are retained by the Issuer, in each case for performance of certain duties with regard to the Index. Such fees are deducted from the Index. Fees have the effect of reducing the value of the Index.

Taxes may be payable by investors

Potential purchasers and sellers of the Securities should be aware that they may be required to pay stamp taxes or other documentary charges in accordance with the laws and practices of the country where the Securities are transferred. Holders are subject to the provisions of General Condition 8 and payment and/or delivery of any amount due in respect of the Securities will be conditional upon the payment of any Expenses as provided in the Product Conditions. During the subscription period the Issuer will not charge any costs.

Potential purchasers who are in any doubt as to their tax position should consult their own independent tax advisers. In addition, potential purchasers should be aware that tax regulations and their application by the relevant taxation authorities change from time to time. Accordingly, it is not possible to predict the precise tax treatment which will apply at any given time.

The Securities may be terminated prior to their stated date

If the Issuer determines that the performance of its obligations under the Securities has become illegal or impractical in whole or in part for any reason or the Issuer determines that it is no longer legal or practical for it to maintain its hedging arrangement with respect to the Securities, the Issuer may at its discretion and without obligation terminate the Securities early. If the Issuer terminates the Securities early, the Issuer will, if and to the extent permitted by applicable law, pay the holder of each such Security an amount determined by the Calculation Agent to be its fair market value less the cost to the Issuer of unwinding any underlying related hedging arrangements notwithstanding the illegality or impracticality.

Risks associated with Securities held in global form

The Securities will initially be held by or on behalf of the clearing systems specified in the Product Conditions (the “relevant clearing systems”) in the form of a global Security which will be exchangeable for definitive Securities only in the event of the closure of all relevant clearing systems. For as long as any Securities are represented by a global Security held on behalf of one or more relevant clearing systems, payments of principal, interest (if any) and any other amounts on a global Security will be made through the relevant clearing systems against presentation or surrender (as the case may be) of the relevant global Security and, in the case of a temporary global Security, certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership. The bearer of the relevant global Security shall be treated by the Issuer and any Paying Agent as the sole holder of the relevant Securities represented by such global Security with respect to the payment of principal, interest (if any) and any other amounts payable in respect of the Securities or any securities deliverable in respect of the Securities.

Securities which are represented by a global Security will be transferable only in accordance with the rules and procedures for the time being of the relevant clearing systems.

Risk associated with nominee arrangements

Where a nominee service provider (i.e. a bank or other institution through which the Holder holds its Securities) is used by an investor to hold Securities or such investor holds interests in any Security through accounts with a relevant clearing system, such investor will receive payments in respect of principal, interest, (if any) or any other amounts due, or securities deliverable, as applicable, solely on the basis of the arrangements entered into by the investor with the relevant nominee service provider or clearing system, as the case may be. Furthermore, such investor must rely on the relevant nominee service provider or clearing system to distribute all payments or securities attributable to the relevant Securities which are received from the Issuer. Accordingly, such an investor will be exposed to the credit risk of, and default risk in respect of, the relevant nominee service provider or clearing system, as well as the Issuer.

In addition, such a Holder will only be able to sell any Securities held by it prior to their stated maturity date with the assistance of the relevant nominee service provider.

None of the Issuer or any Paying Agent shall be responsible for the acts or omissions of any relevant nominee service provider or clearing system nor makes any representation or warranty, express or implied, as to the service provided by any relevant nominee service provider or clearing system.

There may be a change of law and jurisdiction

The Conditions are based on English law in effect as at the date of this Prospectus. No assurance can be given as to the impact of any possible change to English law or administrative practice after the date of this Prospectus.

Prospective investors should note that the courts of England and Wales shall have jurisdiction in respect of any disputes involving the Securities. Holders may, however, take any suit, action or proceedings arising out of or in connection with the Securities against the Issuer in any court of competent jurisdiction. English law may be materially different from the equivalent law in the home jurisdiction of prospective investors in its application to the Securities.

Credit ratings may not reflect all risks

One or more independent credit rating agencies may assign credit ratings to the Issuer or the Securities. The ratings may not reflect the potential impact of all risks related to structure, market, additional factors discussed above, and other factors that may affect the value of the Securities. A credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be revised or withdrawn by the rating agency at any time.

The return on an investment in Securities will be affected by charges incurred by investors

An investor's total return on an investment in the Securities will be affected by the level of fees charged by the nominee service provider and/or clearing system used by the investor. Such a person or institution may charge fees for the opening and operation of an investment account, transfers of the Securities, custody services and on payments of interest, principal and other amounts or delivery of securities. Potential investors are therefore advised to investigate the basis on which any such fees will be charged on the Securities.

Legal investment considerations may restrict certain investments

The investment activities of certain investors are subject to legal investment laws and regulations, or review or regulation by certain authorities. Each potential investor should consult its legal advisers to determine whether and to what extent: (i) the Securities are legal investments for it; (ii) the Securities can be used as collateral for various types of borrowing; and (iii) other restrictions apply to its purchase or pledge of the Securities. Financial institutions should consult their legal advisers or the appropriate regulators to determine the appropriate treatment of the Securities under any applicable risk-based capital or similar rules.

Part B – Risk Factors Relating to the Underlying Funds

Risk of Short Operating Histories

As at the date of this Prospectus, the Issuer, Holdings and the Underlying Funds all have operating histories. Some of these histories may be relatively short and the strategies that will apply in relation to the Securities may not have previously been used, such strategies may deliver disappointing results over the longer term. The past performance of an entity is no guarantee of future results.

Limited Information

No representation or warranty, whether implied or otherwise, is given by the Issuer as to the future performance of the shares in the Underlying Funds (the “Shares”).

The Issuer is not a source of advice, information or credit analysis with respect to the Index, the Underlying Funds, the Shares, the assets notionally comprised in the Index or the underlying assets of the Underlying Funds. In particular, this Prospectus does not constitute investment advice. The Issuer does not assume any obligation to or relationship of agency or trust with any Holder or prospective investor in the Securities.

The Issuer does not have the ability to control or predict the actions of any of the principals of the Underlying Funds, the Investment Manager or the Investment Adviser notionally included in the Index. No such principal is involved in the offer of the Securities in any way and none has any obligation to consider the interest of Holders in taking any corporate actions that might affect the value of the Securities.

Foreign Securities Risk

Investing in the securities of foreign issuers involves special risks and considerations not typically associated with investing in domestic companies. The securities of foreign companies may be less liquid and may fluctuate more widely than those traded in domestic markets. Foreign companies and markets may also have less governmental supervision. There may be difficulty in enforcing contractual obligations and little public information about the companies. Trades may take more time to settle and clear and the cost of buying and selling foreign securities may be higher than similar costs associated with domestically traded securities.

Currency Risk

The value of the securities held by the Underlying Funds may be affected by changes in exchange rates or control regulations. The Underlying Funds are denominated in EUR. All stocks in the Underlying Fund’s portfolio denominated in currencies other than Euro will be hedged to the Euro as far as possible.

Political/Economic Risk

Changes in economic, tax or foreign investment policies, or other political, governmental or economic actions can adversely affect the value of the securities in the Underlying Funds.

Regulatory Risk

In foreign countries, accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards and other regulatory practices and requirements are generally different from those required for domestic companies.

Liquidity Risk

When there is no willing buyer and investments cannot be readily sold at the desired time or price, the Underlying Funds may have to accept a lower price or may not be able to sell the equities at all. An inability to sell equities can adversely affect the Underlying Fund's value or prevent the Underlying Funds from being able to take advantage of other investment opportunities.

Investment Manager Risk

The performance of the Underlying Funds is dependent upon the Investment Manager's skill in making appropriate investments. As a result, the Underlying Funds may underperform the stock or fixed income market or its peers. Also, the Underlying Funds could fail to meet their investment objectives.

Risk of under performance of Underlying Funds

The Investment Manager is responsible for making strategic, investment and other trading decisions with respect to the management of the Underlying Funds, consistent with its “Investment Objectives” and/or “Investment Restrictions” as set out in its constitutive documents. The manner in which the Underlying Funds are managed and the timing of such decisions will have a significant impact on the performance of the Underlying Funds. Hence the price which is used to calculate the value of the Performance Component is also subject to these risks.

These risks are common to all funds and are not specific to the Underlying Funds. These risks include:

- the risk that the stock price of one or more of the assets in the Underlying Funds’ portfolio will fall, or will fail to rise. Many factors can adversely affect an asset’s performance, including both general financial market conditions and factors related to a specific asset or asset class;
- general macro-economic or asset class specific factors, including interest rates, rates of inflation, financial instability, lack of timely or reliable financial information or unfavourable political or legal developments;
- asset allocation policies of the Investment Manager;
- credit quality and the risk of default of the asset or of assets generally in that class of assets;

- the risk that the Underlying Funds’ “Investment Objectives” and/or “Investment Restrictions” as set out in its constitutive documents are materially changed, not complied with or the method of calculating the value of the Underlying Funds Shares is materially changed;
- the risk that one or more of the Underlying Funds are liquidated, dissolved or otherwise ceases to exist or it or the Investment Manager and/or the Issuer is subject to a proceeding under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law; or
- the risk that the Underlying Funds Investment Manager or Investment Adviser is subject to a fraud event.

Prospective investors should be aware that the Investment Manager will not manage the Underlying Funds in relation to the Index or to maximise return under the Securities, but solely in accordance with the “Investment Objectives” and/or “Investment Restrictions” applicable to the Underlying Funds.

Tax Risk

Because the Issuer is resident in the Netherlands, distributions made by the Underlying Funds in respect of the Performance Component's notional investment in Underlying Fund Shares will be paid net of statutory withholding tax. Such withholding will have a negative effect on the performance of the Performance Component. It should be noted that tax laws and the interpretation and application thereof are subject to changes, which changes could be made with retroactive effect. All potential investors, whether subject to tax in the Netherlands or in any other jurisdiction, are strongly recommended to seek their own professional advice regarding the tax consequences for them of holding an investment in the Securities.

Fund Adjustment Event Risk

In the event of a Fund Adjustment Event, the Calculation Agent will determine the effect of such Fund Adjustment Event and may determine the appropriate adjustment, if any, to be made to any one or more of the Conditions and/or the Index (including the Index Rules) to account for such event and determine the effective date of that adjustment. Such adjustment may include canceling the Securities by giving notice to Holders in accordance with General Condition 4. If the Securities are to be cancelled the Holder may receive an amount less than the Nominal Amount.

Part C – Conflicts of Interest

Actions taken by the Calculation Agent and the Index Agent may affect the Underlying Funds

Each of the Calculation Agent and the Index Agent is the agent of the Issuer and not the agent of the Holders or any of them. The Issuer may itself act as the Calculation Agent and/or the Index Agent. The Calculation Agent will make such adjustments as it considers appropriate as a consequence of certain corporate actions affecting the Underlying Funds. In making these adjustments the Calculation Agent is entitled to exercise substantial discretion and may be subject to conflicts of interest in exercising this discretion. The Calculation Agent is not required to make adjustments with respect to each and every corporate action. In addition, the Final Index Level will be based in part on decisions of the Index Agent. These decisions and their timing may affect the performance of the Index as a whole. No penalties exist if parties fail to make decisions which would most enhance the performance of the Index.

Actions taken by the Issuer may affect the value of the Securities

The Issuer and/or any of its affiliates may carry out activities that minimise its and/or their risks related to the Securities, including effecting transactions for their own account or for the account of their customers and hold long or short positions in the Underlying Funds whether for risk reduction purposes or otherwise. In addition, in connection with the offering of any Securities, the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates may enter into one or more hedging transactions with respect to the Underlying Funds. In connection with such hedging or market-making activities or with respect to proprietary or other trading activities by the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates, the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates may enter into transactions in the Underlying Funds which may affect the market price, liquidity or value of the Underlying Funds and/or the Securities and which could be deemed to be adverse to the interests of the Holders. The Issuer and/or its affiliates are likely to modify their hedging positions throughout the life of the Securities whether by effecting transactions in the Underlying Funds or in derivatives linked to the Underlying Funds. Further, it is possible that the advisory services which the Issuer and/or its affiliates provide in the ordinary course of its/their business could lead to an adverse impact on the value of the Underlying Funds.

UNDERLYING FUNDS – INFORMATION

This information has been sourced from the prospectus relating to Fortis OBAM N.V. dated 1 September 2006 published by Fortis Investments and the 2006 brochure relating to the JPMorgan Global Dynamic Fund published by JPMorgan Asset Management. The Issuer confirms that this information has been accurately reproduced and that as far as the Issuer is aware and is able to ascertain from information published by that third party, no facts have been omitted which would render the reproduced information inaccurate or misleading.

Fortis OBAM N.V.

Fortis OBAM N.V. is an open-end investment fund founded in 1936. The fund (in principle) invests worldwide in listed shares, aiming at a combination of capital growth and income with an emphasis on the former. With this Fortis OBAM N.V. has the possibility to effect transactions to cover the foreign currency risk fully or partially and/or to pursue additional profitability. Although risk spreading is an important factor in the investment policy, there will be no hesitation to concentrate a relatively large proportion of its portfolio in consciously chosen, well managed companies in attractive industries. As a result of this policy, the development of the value of Fortis OBAM N.V. can deviate from the development of the MSCI World Index. The shares of the fund are traded daily on the Official Segment of Euronext Amsterdam's stock exchange and are quoted in euros. The fund has obtained permission from the Authority for the Financial Markets to operate under the Dutch law regarding the Financial Supervision Act (Wet op het financieel toezicht). The prospectus relating to Fortis OBAM N.V. is available at www.fortisobam.nl via www.fortisfunds.com.

JPMorgan Global Dynamic Fund

JPMorgan Global Dynamic Fund is an investment fund founded in 2000 by JPMorgan Asset Management, the marketing name for the asset management activities of JPMorgan Chase & Co. The fund invests (in principle) worldwide in listed shares and its strategy is focussed on maximising performance by investing in stocks based on their fundamental merit rather than their benchmark weight. The fund combines disciplined quantitative stock screening with stock-picking capability at the regional and global sector level. In addition, the strategy provides exposure to the broader global market, including small and mid-cap stocks. The portfolio is broadly diversified by country and sector and consists of between 200 - 300 names in order to reduce risk and ensure that the majority of the risk is taken through both style and stock selection. JPM Global Dynamic Fund is a style driven strategy which aims at finding the best of growth and value stocks across global stock markets and market capitalisation segments. By holding both growth and value stocks, the manager aims to maximise the probability of outperformance. While growth or value has each been shown to outperform in six out of ten periods, a combination of the two styles increases this frequency to around eight out of ten periods. The shares of the funds are quoted in US dollars. The prospectus relating to JPMorgan Global Dynamic Fund is available from JPMorgan Asset Management (Europe) S.à.r.l., European Bank and Business Centre, 6 route de Trèves, L-2633 Senningerberg, Grand Duchy of Luxembourg.

DESCRIPTION OF THE SECURITIES AND THE INDEX

The following summary answers some questions that you might have regarding the securities, in general terms only. It does not contain all the information which may be important to you. You should read the General Conditions and Product Conditions and the summary together with the more detailed information contained in the remainder of the Prospectus. You should carefully consider, amongst other things, the risks set out in “Risk Factors relating to the Securities” above. In addition, we urge you to consult with your investment, legal, accounting, tax and other advisors with respect to any investment in the Securities. The information contained in this section is subject in its entirety to the General Conditions and the Product Conditions.

What are the Securities?

The Securities are issued by ABN AMRO Bank N.V., acting through its London branch. A Security entitles the Holder to receive the Cash Amount. The extent to which, if any, the Cash Amount will exceed 100% of the Nominal Amount is determined by reference to the Index Value as at the Maturity Date and in particular the performance of the Performance Component.

Who is ABN AMRO Bank N.V and what is its role

ABN AMRO Bank N.V., acting through its London Branch, is the Issuer of the Securities. ABN AMRO Bank N.V. is a global banking group based in the Netherlands. For detailed information on the Issuer please see the Registration Document. Its long-term senior debt rating is, as at the date hereof, Aa3 (Moody's Investor Services) and AA- (S&P).

ABN AMRO Bank N.V. is also the Calculation Agent and Paying Agents for the Securities. As Calculation Agent and Paying Agents for the Securities, ABN AMRO Bank N.V. monitors the risk, applies the rebalancing methodology in accordance with the Conditions and is responsible for all calculations, determinations and payments under the Securities. ABN AMRO Bank N.V. is also the Listing Agent in relation to listing the Securities on Eurolist.

On the Maturity Date, the Issuer will redeem your Securities by paying to you an amount equal to the Cash Amount.

As the Securities have a minimum payout of the Cash Amount on the Maturity Date, the Issuer is also the entity which protects the payment on the Maturity Date of no less than that Cash Amount.

Where does my money go?

The money is paid to the Issuer and used by the Issuer for its general corporate purposes. The issue price per Security is EUR 1,010.

The Securities entitle the Holder to receive the Cash Amount from the Issuer on the Maturity Date.

How does the Index link to the Securities?

The Securities represents a notional investment in the Index. The Index comprises a Performance Component, a Capital Protection Component and Leverage Component as summarised below. The Securities offer a minimum redemption of 100% of the Nominal Amount at maturity plus the potential for an additional return determined by the performance of the Index. The principal is not at risk if the Securities are held to maturity, subject to Issuer credit risk.

What is the Index?

The calculation of the Index commences on the Index Start Date, and finishes on the Valuation Day. The objective of the Index is to deliver capital growth over this period. The Index is comprised of three components which are:

- The Performance Component: the price (including associated transaction costs) of a notional investment of units the underlying funds (each an “Underlying Fund” and together the “Underlying Funds”)
- The Capital Protection Component: the price of a notional investment in units (including fractions of units) of financial securities constituting a primary payment obligation of the Issuer equivalent to EUR 1,000 on the Maturity Date; its price is determined by reference to the appropriate Euro Reference Rate as determined by the Index Agent;
- The Leverage Component: A negative cash balance representing a notional borrowing facility in EUR provided by ABN AMRO Bank N.V., which allows the Calculation Agent to increase the exposure to the Index.

The sum of the Performance Component and Capital Protection Component less the Leverage Component and less any notional fees, represents the Index Level per Security.

The initial Index Level is EUR 1,000 as of the Issue Date. An up-front fee of 100 basis points (1 basis point is 0.01 per cent.) of the Nominal Amount will be retained by the Issuer (and may be used inter alia to remunerate distributors).

How does the Performance Component work?

The Performance Component is comprised of units of the Underlying Funds. The Index Agent will determine the price of an investment unit of the Performance Component based on the Notional Transaction Price (as defined in the Product Conditions) of each Share (and converted into EUR if necessary at the prevailing rate of exchange). Investment units in the Performance Component shall be acquired such that from the Issue Date to the Index Start Date, in financial terms, the notional investment in the Performance Component is within an acceptable range (in the determination of the Calculation Agent) of the Target Performance Component Value.

How does the Capital Protection Component work?

The Capital Protection Component represents notional investments in units of a financial security constituting a primary payment obligation of the Issuer equivalent to EUR 1,000 on the Maturity Date. It is used to mitigate the risk of the Final Index Level being less than the Protected Amount. Any amount of the Index which is not notionally invested in the Performance Component and Leverage Component at any time will be notionally invested in the Capital Protection Component.

What is leverage?

Leverage is a mechanism which allows for greater exposure to the market than the value of the investment. In relation to the Index this is achieved by the Leverage Component which is a theoretical cash loan from the Issuer. Through the Leverage Component exposure to the Performance Component may be increased to a maximum of 150% of the Index Level. The cost of funds charged in the Leverage Component will be calculated using the Leverage Component over-night rate EURIBOR plus 50 basis points (and capitalised by increasing the number of units of the Leverage Component).

What is the Leverage Ratio and how does it work?

Without leverage, less might be allocated to the Performance Component. In principle, the Performance Component should never be greater than 150% of the Index Level. There is a Leverage Limit of 50% of the Index Level and a Leverage Tolerance Limit of 55%. This means that ABN AMRO, as Calculation Agent, shall re-balance if the Leverage Ratio is equal to or greater than 55% of the Index Level. After such re-balancing, the Leverage Ratio should not exceed 50% of the Index Level. The Leverage Ratio is calculated on each Trading Day.

How is the Protected Amount determined?

The Protected Amount is 100% of the Nominal Amount (at maturity).

What is the allocation between the Performance Component, Capital Protection Component and Leverage Component in the Index?

Allocation between the Index Components is dynamic. The initial notional investment in the Performance Component, Capital Protection Component and Leverage Component is fixed by reference to the Target Performance Component Value. The expected initial allocation on the Index Start Date in the Performance Component will be 100%, 0% in the Capital Protection Component and 0% in the Leverage Component. The allocation to the Performance Component on the Index Start Date will be such that the Re-balancing Factor is within a range of 4 to 5.5. Thereafter, the allocations may change over time by reference to the Target Performance Component Value. The Calculation

Agent will determine the values to be allocated/re-allocated in each of the Index Components in accordance with the formulas set out in the Index Rules.

It is intended that the initial Index Level will be EUR 1,000 as of the Issue Date

How often will re-balancing be done?

Generally speaking and subject to the exception below, re-balancing will occur as follows:

- (a) as of any Trading Day, if the Re-balancing Factor exceeds the Multiplier by at least 0.75, or the Multiplier exceeds the Re-balancing Factor by at least 0.75, there will be a Re-Balancing Event. Upon the occurrence of a Re-balancing Event, the Calculation Agent will calculate the number of investment units of the Performance Component that are required to be notionally purchased or sold so that the Performance Component after the re-balancing is as close as possible to the Target Performance Component Value, subject to the Leverage Limit; or
- (b) as of any Trading Day, if the value of the Leverage Component exceeds the Leverage Tolerance Limit the Index Agent shall, as soon as possible, re-balance the Index Components so that after effecting such re-balancing: (i) the Performance Component is (as close as possible) equal to the Target Performance Component Value; and (ii) the value of the Leverage Component is (as close as possible) equal to or less than the Leverage Limit but in no event greater than the Leverage Limit.

Any proceeds required to notionally increase the Performance Component that cannot be financed using the full proceeds of the Capital Protection Component must be financed using the Leverage Component. Any proceeds notionally realized by sales of the Performance Component shall be first used to pay back any outstanding borrowings under the Leverage Component and, once the leverage component is reduced to zero, to increase the Capital Protection Component.

The Target Performance Component Value is the greater of:

- (a) $\text{Multiplier} \times [\text{IL}_{(t)} - \text{BF}_{(t)}]$, where “ $\text{IL}_{(t)}$ ” is the Index Level on Trading Day “ t ” as of the Valuation Time and “ $\text{BF}_{(t)}$ ” is the value of the Bond Floor on Trading Day “ t ” as of the Valuation Time; and
- (b) the Minimum Performance Component Value.

If on any given Trading Day, the immediately preceding re-balancing of the Index has resulted in the applicable Target Performance Component Value being the Minimum Performance Component Value, then the re-balancing rules stated above shall apply provided that where the Re-balancing Factor either (i) exceeds the Multiplier by at least 0.75, or (ii) is negative; then the Index Agent shall not be required to re-balance the Index Components. This exception to the normal re-balancing rules shall only apply until such time as the Re-Balancing Factor falls to between 0 and 4, in which case the normal re-balancing rules shall re-apply.

A variety of factors (including, without limitation, a change in the value of the Performance Component, the Bond Floor and deductions from the Index with respect to Notional Fees) could cause a Re-Balancing Event. In the event that a Re-balancing Event occurs, the Index will be re-balanced such that the Re-balancing Factor is as close as possible to the Multiplier.

There are many factors, which may cause the allocation to change, including changes in the price of investment units of the Performance Component and changes in the price of investment units of the Capital Protection Component. Broadly speaking, when the price of investment units of the Performance Component is increasing, the allocation to the Performance Component (and Leverage Component, if any) is likely to increase. Conversely, when the price of investment units of the Performance Component is decreasing, the allocation to the Performance Component (and Leverage Component, if any) is likely to reduce.

What is the Minimum Performance Component Value?

The Minimum Performance Component Value is equal to 20% of the Index Level on an given Trading Day. The Index Agent shall re-balance the Index Components such that the Performance Component will be (as close as possible) equal to or greater than the Minimum Performance Component Value, therefore investors are (in most cases) assured of at least a 20% exposure to the Underlying Fund. However, investors should note that there may be circumstances where the Performance Component is less than the Minimum Performance Component value, in particular where the exception to the normal re-balancing rules applies (see paragraph entitled How often will re-balancing be done?).

What is the Bond Floor Value?

On any day the Bond Floor Value equals the present value of a repayment on the Maturity Date of an amount equal to any unaccrued Distribution Fee plus the present value 100% of the Nominal Amount at Maturity and, determined by the Index Agent using the appropriate Euro Reference Rates adjusted by the relevant spread of minus 10 basis points;

Will I receive income?

Yes, in the event that a coupon is payable. The Securities are coupon-bearing and, where the Coupon Amount is greater than zero, entitle the investor to receive the Coupon Amount payable annually in arrears from March 2008. The Coupon accrues, and is removed, from the Index Level on a daily basis.

How is the Coupon Amount calculated?

The Coupon Amount shall be an amount equal to a proportionate share (determined by the number of Securities held) of 3% of the value of the Performance Component (as determined by the Calculation Agent) on the Coupon Observation Date. The value of the Performance Component can vary due to Re-Balancing Events. Where payable, the Coupon Amount is paid on a Coupon Payment Date (four business days following each Coupon Observation Date up to and including the Maturity Date). The Coupon Amount will be deducted from the value of the Performance Component and will result in a drop in the value of the Security. Holders of the Securities should note that the Performance Component allocation may be less than, and as low as 20% of, the Nominal Amount which, in turn, reduces the amount of capital which may earn a coupon.

Is there a limit on how much I can earn over the life of the Securities?

There is no cap on the potential investment return. Prospective investors should, however, recognise that due to the dynamic allocation process, significantly less than 100% of the Index may be notionally allocated to the Performance Component. This could have an impact on the rate of return.

How can I track the Index?

ABN AMRO will publish a chart of the historic value of the Index Level on Internet page www.abnamromarkets.nl.

Does protection of the Nominal Amount dilute the potential returns?

Potentially yes. The allocation of the Index to the Performance Component, Capital Protection Component and Leverage Component is dynamic. Allocations to the Capital Protection Component dilute Index gains when the Performance Component is rising strongly. However, the Leverage Component provides the investor with an enhanced exposure to the Index as a whole.

Can I redeem early?

There is no provision in the Securities for a Holder's early redemption. However, ABN AMRO Bank N.V., London branch will, on a best efforts basis, repurchase and re-offer the Securities prior to the Maturity Date at a value to be determined by ABN AMRO.

What happens on the Maturity Date?

The Securities will be redeemed on the Maturity Date at the greater of:

1. 100% of the Nominal Amount; and
2. the Final Index Level.

What fees are there?

The Issuer charges the following fees:

- (a) an Up-Front Fee of 100 basis points of the Nominal Amount shall be retained by the Issuer out of the issue proceeds, consequently EUR 1,000 per Security shall be invested in the Index;
- (b) a Protection Fee of 125 basis points of the Index Level per annum. The Protection Fee will accrue on a daily basis and will be calculated by the Index Agent on the basis of the relevant Index Level;
- (c) a Distribution Fee of 16 basis points of the Nominal Amount per annum shall be retained by the Issuer for the purpose of remunerating distributors. Any Underlying Funds Fee Rebate which the Issuer from time to time receives in respect of its hedging activities in the Underlying Funds will be passed onto the distributors as an additional distribution fee; and

(d) certain other fees costs and expenses in respect of the notional investment in the Underlying Funds, will be deducted from the Index Level. For further information on these please refer to www.asset.abnamro.com

How will the fees impact my investment?

The Protection Fee is charged to the Index by deduction from the Index Level. Therefore it will impact the return on your investment at maturity if the Final Index Level is above the Nominal Amount.

Do I have any right to receive any of the assets in the Balanced Portfolio?

No. The Securities are cash settled only.

Do the investments made to ensure the return of the Minimum Protected Amount reduce the potential returns?

Should any allocation be made to the Protection Component, with the aim of ensuring the repayment of the Nominal Amount, the potential return of the Securities may be diluted.

- (a) in (or in Germany, where the offer starts within) the period beginning on the date of publication of a prospectus in relation to those Securities which has been approved by the competent authority in that Relevant Member State or, where appropriate, approved in another Relevant Member State and notified to the competent authority in that Relevant Member State, all in accordance with the Prospectus Directive and ending on the date which is 12 months after the date of such publication;

As used in this and the above paragraph “United States” means the United States of America, its territories or possessions, any state of the United States, the District of Columbia or any other enclave of the United States government, its agencies or instrumentalities, and “U.S. person” means:

the issue or sale of any Securities in circumstances in which section 21(1) of the FSMA would not, if the Issuer was not an authorised person, apply to the Issuer and it has complied and will comply with all applicable provisions of the FSMA with respect to anything done by it in relation to any Securities in, from or otherwise involving the United Kingdom.

Conditions of the Securities

The terms and conditions applicable to the Securities are the General Conditions and the Product Conditions set out below. These conditions together constitute the Conditions of the Series of the Securities described herein and will be attached to the Global Certificate representing such Series.

GENERAL CONDITIONS

The General Conditions which follow relate to the Securities and must be read in conjunction with, and are subject to, the Product Conditions (whether or not attached to this document). The Product Conditions and the General Conditions together constitute the Conditions of the Securities and will be printed on the Definitive Securities or attached to the Global Security representing the Securities.

1. DEFINITIONS

Terms in capitals which are not defined in these General Conditions shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the Product Conditions.

2. STATUS

The Securities constitute unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer and rank pari passu among themselves and with all other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer save for those preferred by mandatory provisions of law.

3. EARLY TERMINATION

The Issuer shall have the right to terminate the Securities if it shall have determined in its absolute discretion that for reasons beyond its control its performance thereunder shall have become unlawful in whole or in part as a result of compliance in good faith by the Issuer with any applicable present or future law, rule, regulation, judgement, order or directive of any governmental, administrative, legislative or judicial authority or power (“Applicable Law”). In such circumstances the Issuer will, however, if and to the extent permitted by the Applicable Law, pay to each Holder in respect of each Security held by such Holder an amount calculated by it as the fair market value of the Security immediately prior to such termination (ignoring such illegality) less the cost to the Issuer of unwinding any related hedging arrangements. Payment will be made to the Holder in such manner as shall be notified to the Holder in accordance with General Condition 4.

4. NOTICES

- (a) Validity. Unless otherwise specified, announcements to Holders will be valid if delivered to the Clearing Agent(s).
- (b) Delivery. Any such announcement issued pursuant to General Condition 4(a) shall be deemed to be effective on the day following its delivery to the Clearing Agent (and if delivered to more than one Clearing Agent on the date first delivered to a Clearing Agent) or, if published as specified in the relevant Offering Supplement on the date of such publication (and if published in more than one country then on the date first published).

5. HEDGING DISRUPTION

- (a) Notification. The Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable give instructions to the Calculation Agent to notify the Holders in accordance with General Condition 4(a): (i) if it determines that a Hedging Disruption Event has occurred; and (ii) of the consequence of such Hedging Disruption Event as determined by the Issuer pursuant to General Condition 5(c).
- (b) Hedging Disruption Event. A “Hedging Disruption Event” shall occur if the Issuer determines that it is or has become not reasonably practicable or it has otherwise become undesirable, for any reason, for the Issuer wholly or partially to establish, re-establish, substitute or maintain a relevant hedging transaction (a “Relevant Hedging Transaction”) it deems necessary or desirable to hedge the Issuer's obligations in respect of the Securities. The reasons for such determination by the Issuer may include, but are not limited to, the following:
 - (i) any material illiquidity in the market for the relevant instruments (the “Disrupted Instrument”) which from time to time are included in the reference asset to which the Securities relate; or
 - (ii) a change in any applicable law (including, without limitation, any tax law) or the promulgation of, or change in, the interpretation of any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law (including any action taken by a taxing authority); or
 - (iii) a material decline in the creditworthiness of a party with whom the Issuer has entered into any such Relevant Hedging Transaction; or
 - (iv) the general unavailability of: (A) market participants who will agree to enter into a Relevant Hedging Transaction; or (B) market participants who will so enter into a Relevant Hedging Transaction on commercially reasonable terms.
- (c) Consequences. The Issuer, in the event of a Hedging Disruption Event, may determine to:
 - (i) terminate the Securities. In such circumstances the Issuer will, however, if and to the extent permitted by the Applicable Law, pay to each Holder in respect of each Security held by such Holder an amount calculated by it as the fair market value of the Security immediately prior to such termination less the cost to the Issuer of unwinding any related hedging arrangements. Where the Securities contain provisions which provide a minimum assured return of principal, howsoever expressed, on the Settlement Date or Maturity Date as applicable, or a minimum assured return of interest or coupons, howsoever expressed, on a relevant Interest Payment Date, any such amount to be paid under this General Condition shall not be less than the present value of such minimum assured return of principal and/or interest or coupons, such present value being determined by the Calculation Agent. Payment will be made to the Holder in such manner as shall be notified to the Holder in accordance with General Condition 4;

- (ii) make an adjustment in good faith to the relevant reference asset by removing the Disrupted Instrument at its fair market value (which may be zero). Upon any such removal the Issuer may: (A) hold any notional proceeds (if any) arising as a consequence thereof and adjust the terms of payment and/or delivery in respect of the Securities; or (B) notionally reinvest such proceeds in other reference asset(s) if so permitted under the Conditions (including the reference asset(s) to which the Securities relate);
- (iii) make any other adjustment to the Conditions as it considers appropriate in order to maintain the theoretical value of the Securities after adjusting for the relevant Hedging Disruption Event. Where the Securities contain provisions which provide a minimum assured return of principal, howsoever expressed, on the Settlement Date or Maturity Date as applicable, or a minimum assured return of interest or coupons, howsoever expressed, on a relevant Interest Payment Date, any such adjustment will in no way affect the Issuer's obligations to make payment to the Holders not less than the minimum assured return of principal and/or interest or coupons on the relevant Settlement Date or Maturity Date, or Interest Payment Date, as applicable.

6. PURCHASES, FURTHER ISSUES BY THE ISSUER AND PRESCRIPTION

- (a) Purchases. The Issuer or any Affiliate may, except under certain circumstances, purchase Securities at any price in the open market or by tender or private treaty. Any Securities so purchased may be held, surrendered for cancellation or reissued or resold, and Securities so reissued or resold shall for all purposes be deemed to form part of the original series of Securities.
- (b) In this General Condition 6(a) “Affiliate” means any entity controlled directly or indirectly, by the Issuer, any entity that controls, directly or indirectly, the Issuer, or any entity under common control with the Issuer. As used herein “control” means the

- (c) Further Issues. The Issuer shall be at liberty from time to time without the consent of the Holders or any of them to create and issue further securities so as to be consolidated with and form a single series with the Securities.
- (d) Prescription. Any Security or Coupon which is capable of presentation and is not so presented by its due date for presentation shall be void, and its value reduced to zero, if not so presented within five years of such due date. For the avoidance of doubt, any Securities which are subject to provisions relating to their exercise shall be void, and their value shall be zero, if not exercised in accordance with their provisions.

7. DETERMINATIONS AND MODIFICATIONS

- (a) Determinations. Any determination made by the Issuer shall (save in the case of manifest error) be final, conclusive and binding on the Holders.
- (b) Modifications. The Issuer may without the consent of the Holders or any of them, modify any provision of the Conditions which is: (i) of a formal, minor or technical nature; (ii) made to correct a manifest error; or (iii) in its absolute discretion, not materially prejudicial to the interests of the Holders. Notice of any such modification will be given to the Holders in accordance with General Condition 4 but failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any such modification.

8. SUBSTITUTION

- (a) Substitution of Issuer. The Issuer may at any time, without the consent of the Holders substitute for itself as principal obligor under the Securities any company (the “Substitute”), being any subsidiary or affiliate of the Issuer, subject to: (i) the obligation of the Substitute under the Securities being guaranteed by ABN AMRO Holding N.V. (“Holding”) (unless Holding is the Substitute); (ii) all actions, conditions and things required to be taken, fulfilled and done (including the obtaining of any necessary consents) to ensure that the Securities represent legal, valid and binding obligations of the Substitute having been taken, fulfilled and done and being in full force and effect; and (iii) the Issuer having given at least 30 days’ prior notice of the date of such substitution to the Holders in accordance with General Condition 4. In the event of any substitution of the Issuer, any reference in the Conditions to the Issuer shall from such time be construed as a reference to the Substitute.

- (b) Substitution of Office. The Issuer shall have the right upon notice to the Holders in accordance with General Condition 4 to change the office through which it is acting and shall specify the date of such change in such notice.

9. TAXATION

The Issuer shall not be liable for or otherwise obliged to pay any tax, duty, withholding or other similar payment which may arise as a result of the ownership, transfer or exercise of any Securities. In relation to each Security the relevant Holder shall pay all Expenses as provided in the Product Conditions. All payments or, as the case may be, deliveries in respect of the Securities will be subject in all cases to all applicable fiscal and other laws and regulations (including, where applicable, laws requiring the deduction or withholding for, or on account of, any tax duty or other charge whatsoever). The Holder shall be liable for and/or pay, any tax, duty or charge in connection with, the ownership of and/or any transfer, payment or delivery in respect of the Securities held by such Holder. The Issuer shall have the right, but shall not be obliged, to withhold or deduct from any amount payable such amount, as shall be necessary to account for or to pay any such tax, duty, charge, withholding or other payment. Each Holder shall indemnify the Issuer against any loss, cost or other liability whatsoever sustained or incurred by the Issuer in respect of any such tax, duty, charge, withholding or other payment as referred to above in respect of the Securities of such Holder.

10. REPLACEMENT OF SECURITIES AND COUPONS

If any Security or Coupon is lost, stolen, mutilated, defaced or destroyed it may be replaced at the specified office of the Principal Agent (or such other place of which notice shall have been given to Holders in accordance with General Condition 4) upon payment by the claimant of the expenses incurred in connection therewith and on such terms as to evidence and indemnity as the Issuer may reasonably require. Mutilated or defaced Securities and Coupons must be surrendered before replacements will be issued.

11. ADJUSTMENTS FOR EUROPEAN MONETARY UNION

- (a) Redenomination. The Issuer may, without the consent of any Holder, on giving notice to the Holders in accordance with General Condition 4 elect that, with effect from the Adjustment Date specified in such notice, certain terms of the Securities shall be redenominated in euro. The election will have effect as follows:
 - (i) where the Settlement Currency is the National Currency Unit of a country which is participating in the third stage of European Economic and Monetary Union pursuant to the Treaty, whether as from 1999 or after such date, such Settlement Currency shall be deemed to be an amount of euro converted from the original Settlement Currency into euro at the Established Rate, subject to such provisions (if any) as to rounding as the Issuer may decide and as may be specified in the notice, and after the Adjustment Date, all payments in respect of the Securities will be made solely in euro as though references in the Securities to the Settlement Currency were to euro;

- (c) Euro Conversion Costs. Notwithstanding General Condition 11(a) and/or General Condition 11(b), none of the Issuer, the Calculation Agent nor any Agent shall be liable to any Holder or other person for any commissions, costs, losses or expenses in relation to or resulting from the transfer of euro or any currency conversion or rounding effected in connection therewith.

3.2 Initial Index allocation on or about the Issue Date:

- (i) From the Issue Date to the Index Start Date (if the Index Start Date occurs after the Issue date), a notional allocation in the Performance Component shall be made and notwithstanding any other provision of the Index, the Index Level shall be notionally allocated (in the discretion of the Issuer) such that by the Index Start Date, the following approximate percentage allocations will be attributable to the various Index Components:

Performance Component = 100% of the initial Index (indicative);

Capital Protection Component = 0% of the initial Index (indicative); and Leverage Component = 0% of the initial Index; and

- (ii) The allocation to the Performance Component on the Index Start Date will be such that the Re-balancing Factor is within a range of 4 to 5.5.
- (iii) On the Issue Date the Index Level is EUR 1,000. The number of investment units of the Performance Component and of the Capital Protection Component will be reduced pro rata to account for the Notional Fees accrued since the immediately preceding Trading Day.

3.3 Index allocation on each Trading Day

For each Trading Day, the Index Level will be calculated by the Index Agent and may include costs resulting from Re-balancing Events on either that same day or the previous day or previous Trading Day. The Index Level on any Trading Day is given by the following formula:

$$IL_{(t)} = VPC_{(t)} + VCPC_{(t)} - VLC_{(t)}$$

Where:

$IL_{(t)}$ is the Index Level at the Valuation Time;

$VPC_{(t)}$ is the Value of the Performance Component, being based on the Value of an investment unit of the Performance Component (as determined by the Index Agent) multiplied by the number of investment units (which may include a fraction of a unit), of the Performance Component then comprised in the Index at the Valuation Time;

$VCPC_{(t)}$ is the Value of the Capital Protection Component, being based on the Value of an investment unit of the Capital Protection Component (as determined by the Index Agent) multiplied by the number of investment units, (which may include a fraction of an investment unit), of the Capital Protection Component then comprised in the Index at the Valuation Time; and $VLC_{(t)}$ is the Value of the Leverage Component, based on the number of investment units of the Leverage Component which may include a fraction of an investment unit) multiplied by one unit of the Index Currency at the Valuation Time.

The Index Agent shall do all such things as are required to be done in order to ensure the proper maintenance and orderly management of the Index in accordance with its Index Rules. In particular, the Index Agent shall calculate the Index Level and shall effect all calculations in respect of any Re-Balancing Events.

The Index Agent shall make all publications as provided for in, and in accordance with, the Index.

4. RE-BALANCING EVENTS

4.1 Upon the occurrence of a Re-Balancing Event the Index Agent will calculate the number of Performance Component Units that are required to be notionally purchased or sold so that the Value of the Performance Component after the re-balancing is as close as possible to the Target Performance Component Value provided that the Leverage Ratio does not exceed the Leverage Limit.

4.2 As the price at which Performance Component Units could be notionally purchased or sold is not known until after the re-balancing calculation has been performed, the theoretical number of Performance Component Units to be purchased or sold and the resulting Value of the Performance Component may differ from the Target Performance Component Value.

4.3 Subject to Product Condition 4.4:

- (i) if the Multiplier exceeds the Re-Balancing Factor by at least 0.75 and the Re-Balancing Factor is positive the Index Agent shall: reduce the allocation to the Capital Protection Component to the extent required and allocate the resultant proceeds to the Performance Component. However, subject to Product Condition 4.4 below, if there are insufficient notional funds within the Capital Protection Component to cover the full value by which the allocation to the Performance Component is to be made then the Leverage Component shall be increased as necessary in order to ensure a sufficient notional allocation of funds to the Performance Component, subject to Leverage Limit; or
- (ii) If the Re-Balancing Factor either: (i) exceed the Multiplier by at least 0.75; or (ii) the Re-Balancing Factor is negative the Index Agent shall reduce the funds allocated to the Performance Component and accordingly reduce the funds allocated to the Leverage Component and then increase the allocation to the Capital Protection Component.

- (iii) If the Leverage Ratio is greater than or equal to the Leverage Tolerance Limit of 55%, then the Index Agent shall reduce the allocation to the Performance Component and decrease the allocation to the Leverage Component to the extent that the Leverage Ratio no longer exceeds the Leverage Limit of 50%.

4.4 Notwithstanding Product Condition 4.3 if on any Trading Day, the immediately preceding re-balancing of the Index has resulted in the applicable Target Performance Component Factor being set as the Minimum Performance Component Value, then the provisions contained in Product Condition 4.3 shall be replaced by the following provisions, until such time as the Re-Balancing Factor, (as determined by the Index Agent) falls to between 0 and 3.5, in which case, the provisions of Product Condition 4.3 shall re-apply in favour of this Product Condition 4.4:

- (i) if the Multiplier either: (i) exceeds the Re-Balancing Factor by at least 0.75 the Index Agent shall: reduce the allocation to the Capital Protection Component to the extent required and allocate the resultant proceeds to the Performance Component. However, if there are insufficient notional funds within the Capital Protection Component to cover the full value by which the allocation to the Performance Component is to be made then the Leverage Component shall be increased as necessary in order to ensure a sufficient notional allocation of funds to the Performance Component, subject to Leverage Limit; or
- (ii) if the Re-Balancing Factor either: (i) exceeds the Multiplier by 0.75; or (ii) is negative; then no re-balancing of the Index Components shall occur.
- (iii) if the Leverage Ratio is greater than or equal to the Leverage Tolerance Limit, then the Index Agent shall reduce the allocation to the Performance Component and decrease the allocation to the Leverage Component to the extent that the Leverage Ratio no longer exceeds the Leverage Limit.

4.5 Leverage Limit

The Index Agent will be required to effect a re-balancing only to the extent that such a re-balancing will not result in the Leverage Ratio being greater than or equal to the Leverage Limit (notwithstanding that the Re-Balancing Factor would consequently be greater or less than the Target Performance Component Value).

4.6 Price

Any re-balancing hereunder and re-allocations shall be made on the basis of Notional Transaction Prices.
