REGISTRATION DOCUMENT PURSUANT TO ARTICLES 4, 7 AND 9 OF COMMISSION REGULATION (EC) NO 809/2004 (THE "EU PROSPECTUS REGULATION") FOR AEGON N.V. AND AEGON FUNDING COMPANY LLC.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

The statements contained in this Registration Document that are not historical facts are forward-looking statements. The following are words that identify such forward-looking statements: aim, believe, estimate, target, intend, may, expect, anticipate, predict, project, counting on, plan, continue, want, forecast, goal, should, would, is confident, will, and similar expressions as they relate to our company. These statements are not guarantees of future performance and involve risks, uncertainties and assumptions that are difficult to predict. We undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which merely reflect company expectations at the time of writing. Actual results may differ materially from expectations conveyed in forward-looking statements due to changes caused by various risks and uncertainties.

Presentation of certain information

AEGON N.V. is referred to in this Registration Document as “AEGON,” “we,” “us” or “the Company” and AEGON N.V. together with its member companies are together referred to as the “AEGON Group”. For such purposes, “member companies” means, in relation to AEGON N.V., those companies that are required to be consolidated in accordance with legislative requirements of the Netherlands relating to consolidating accounts. References to “Vereniging AEGON” are to Vereniging AEGON and AEGON Funding Company LLC. is referred to in this Registration Document as “AFC”.

In this Registration Document, references to “EUR” and “Euro” are to the lawful currency of the member states of the European Monetary Union that have adopted the single currency in accordance with the Treaty establishing the European Community, as amended by the Treaty on European Union. References to “$,” “USD,” “US$” and “US dollars” are to the lawful currency of the United States of America, references to “GBP,” “pound sterling” and the “UK pound” are to the lawful currency of the United Kingdom, references to “CAD” and “Canadian dollars” are to the lawful currency of Canada and references to “CNY” are to the lawful currency of the People’s Republic of China.

1. Risk factors AEGON N.V. and AEGON Funding Company LLC.

AEGON Funding Company LLC (AFC) is an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of AEGON N.V. If AFC issues any debt securities, AEGON N.V. will fully and unconditionally guarantee the due and punctual payment of the principal of, any premium and any interest on those debt securities, when and as these payments become due and payable, whether at maturity, upon redemption or declaration of acceleration, or otherwise. All risk factors regarding AEGON N.V. equally apply to AFC.

1.1 Risks relating to AEGON's business

Risks related to the global financial markets and general economic conditions

Disruptions in the global financial markets and general economic conditions have affected, and could have material adverse effects on, AEGON's business, results of operations and financial condition.

Global financial markets have been experiencing extreme and unprecedented volatility and disruption, which may have a material adverse effect on AEGON's results of operations, financial condition and liquidity. AEGON's results of operations and financial condition may be materially affected from time to time by general economic conditions, such as levels of employment, consumer lending or inflation in the countries in which AEGON operate. The slowdown in world economies that started in 2008 continued into 2009 although there was some recovery later in the year. The large numbers of redundancies in developed countries continued through 2009. Bank lending has been reduced from the levels seen before the crisis began and the housing markets in Europe and North America remain depressed. In addition to the other risks described in this section, these conditions have resulted and may continue to result in a reduction in demand for AEGON's products as well as a reduction in the value of the assets in AEGON's general account. AEGON also may experience a higher incidence of claims and lapses or surrenders of policies. AEGON's policyholders may choose to defer or stop paying insurance premiums. AEGON cannot predict definitively whether or when such actions, which could impact its business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition, may occur.

In view of ongoing uncertainty with respect to the financial and economic environment, on December 1, 2008, AEGON's core capital was increased through a special transaction with Vereniging AEGON and the State of the Netherlands. Governmental action in the Netherlands and elsewhere to address the financial crisis could impact AEGON's business. AEGON cannot predict with any certainty whether these actions will be effective or the effect they may have on the financial markets or on its business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Credit risk

Defaults in AEGON's debt securities, private placements and mortgage loan portfolios may adversely affect profitability and shareholders' equity.

As premiums and deposits are received, these funds are invested to pay for future policyholder obligations. For general account products, AEGON typically bears the risk for investment performance equaling the return of principal and interest. AEGON is exposed to credit risk on its general account fixed-income portfolio (debt securities, mortgages and private placements), OTC derivatives and reinsurance contracts. Some issuers have defaulted on their financial obligations for various reasons, including bankruptcy, lack of liquidity, downturns in the economy, downturns in real estate values, operational failure and fraud. In the current weak economic environment AEGON incurred significant investment impairments on AEGON's investment assets due to defaults and overall declines in the capital markets. Further excessive defaults or other reductions in the value of these securities and loans could have a materially adverse effect on AEGON's business, results of operations and financial condition.

Equity market risk

A decline in equity markets may adversely affect AEGON's profitability and shareholders' equity, sales of savings and investment products and the amount of assets under management.

Fluctuations in the equity markets have affected AEGON's profitability, capital position and sales of equity related products in the past and continue to do so. Exposure to equity markets exists in both assets and liabilities. Asset exposure exists through direct equity investment where AEGON bears all or most of the volatility in returns and investment performance risk. Equity market exposure is also present in insurance and investment contracts for account of policyholders where funds are invested in equities (such as variable annuities, unit-linked products and mutual funds). Although most of the risk remains with the policyholder, lower investment returns can reduce the asset management fee that AEGON earns on the asset balance in these products. In addition, some of this business has minimum return or accumulation guarantees, which requires AEGON to establish reserves to fund these future guaranteed benefits when equity market returns do not meet or exceed these guarantee levels. AEGON's reported results under IFRS are also at risk if returns are not sufficient to allow amortization of deferred policyholder acquisition costs (DPAC), which could impact AEGON's reported net income as well as shareholders' equity. Volatile or poor market conditions may also significantly reduce the demand for some of AEGON's savings and investment products, which could lead to lower sales and net income. Deteriorating general economic conditions may again result in significant decreases in the value of AEGON's equity investments. The equity market conditions experienced in 2009 led to a recognized impairment loss on equity securities held in general account of EUR 96 million (2008: EUR 203 million; 2007: EUR 45 million).

Interest rate risk

Interest rate volatility or sustained low interest rate levels may adversely affect AEGON's profitability and shareholders' equity.

In periods of rapidly increasing interest rates, policy loans, surrenders and withdrawals may and usually do increase. Premiums in flexible premium policies may decrease as policyholders seek investments with higher perceived returns. This activity may result in cash payments by AEGON requiring the sale of invested assets at a time when the prices of those assets are affected adversely by the increase in market interest rates. This may result in realized investment losses. These cash payments to policyholders also result in a decrease in total invested assets and net income. Early withdrawals may also require accelerated amortization of deferred policy acquisition costs, which in turn reduces net income.

During periods of sustained low interest rates, AEGON may not be able to preserve margins as a result of minimum interest rate guarantees and minimum guaranteed crediting rates provided in policies. Also, investment earnings may be lower because the interest earnings on new fixed-income investments are likely to have declined with the market interest rates. Life insurance and annuity products may be relatively more attractive to consumers, resulting in increased premium payments on products with flexible premium features and a higher percentage of insurance policies remaining in force year to year. Mortgages and redeemable bonds in the investment portfolio are more likely to be repaid as borrowers seek to re-finance at lower interest rates and AEGON may be required to reinvest the proceeds in securities bearing lower interest rates. Risk is heightened in the current market and economic environment in which certain securities may be unavailable. Accordingly, net income may decline as a result of a decrease in the spread between returns on the investment portfolio and the interest rates either credited to policyholders or assumed in reserves.

If interest rates rise there may be unrealized losses on some of AEGON's assets that will be recorded as negative income under IFRS. This is inconsistent with the IFRS accounting on much of AEGON's liabilities, where corresponding unrealized gains when interest rates rise do not affect income in the shorter term. Over time, the short-term reduction in income due to rising interest rates would be offset by higher income in later years, all else being equal.

Base interest rates set by central banks and government treasuries remained at the historically low levels set at the end of 2008 in response to the worldwide recession. Management believes these rates are likely to remain low for the remainder of 2010. Although credit spreads reduced in 2009 they still remain at historically high levels.

The profitability of spread-based business depends in large part upon the ability to manage interest rate spreads, credit risk and other risks inherent in the investment portfolio. AEGON may not be able to successfully manage interest rate spreads, credit risk and other risks in the investment portfolio or the potential negative impact of those risks. Investment income from general account fixed income investments for the years 2007, 2008 and 2009 was EUR 7.1 billion, EUR 6.7 billion and EUR 5.8 billion, respectively. The value of the related general account fixed income investment portfolio at the end of the years 2007, 2008 and 2009 was EUR 126 billion, EUR 125 billion and EUR 130 billion, respectively.

Currency exchange rate risk

Fluctuations in currency exchange rates may affect AEGON's reported results of operations.

As an international group, AEGON is subject to foreign currency translation risk. Foreign currency exposure also exists when policies are denominated in currencies other than the issuer's functional currency. Currency risk in the investment portfolios backing insurance and investment liabilities are managed using asset liability matching principles. Assets allocated to equity are kept in local currencies to the extent shareholders' equity is required to satisfy regulatory and AEGON's self-imposed capital requirements. Therefore, currency exchange rate fluctuations may affect the level of AEGON's consolidated shareholders' equity as a result of translation of the equity of AEGON's subsidiaries into euro, AEGON's reporting currency. AEGON holds the remainder of its capital base (capital securities, subordinated and senior debt) in various currencies in amounts that are targeted to correspond to the book value of its operating units. This balancing is intended to mitigate currency translation impacts on equity and leverage ratios. AEGON may also hedge the expected dividends from its principal operating units that maintain their equity in currencies other than the euro. To the extent these expected dividends are not hedged or actual dividends vary from expected, AEGON's net income and shareholders' equity may fluctuate. As AEGON has significant business segments in the Americas and in the United Kingdom, the principal sources of exposure from currency fluctuations are from the differences between the US dollar and the euro and between the UK pound and the euro. AEGON may experience significant changes in net income and shareholders' equity because of these fluctuations.

Direct currency speculation or program trading is not permitted at AEGON's operating units unless explicit approval is granted by appropriately authorized senior management.

The exchange rates between AEGON's primary operating currencies (US dollar, euro and UK pound) continued to fluctuate widely during 2009. The US dollar ranged by as much as 20% against the euro over the year, finishing around 10% down on the year. The UK pound fluctuated by around 10% against the euro but ended the year largely unchanged.

For the Americas segment, which primarily conducts its business in US dollars, total revenues and net income in 2009 amounted to EUR 12 billion and EUR 496 million, respectively. For the United Kingdom segment, which primarily conducts its business in UK pounds, total revenues and net income in 2009 amounted to EUR 10 billion and EUR 5 million, respectively. On a consolidated basis, these two segments represented 74% of the total revenues and 246% of the net income for the year 2009. Additionally, AEGON borrows in various currencies to hedge the currency exposure arising from its operations. On December 31, 2009 AEGON has borrowed or swapped amounts in proportion to the currency mix of capital in units, which was denominated approximately 56% in US dollars, 27% in euro, 12% in UK pounds and 5% in Canadian dollars.

Liquidity risk

Illiquidity of certain investment assets may prevent AEGON from selling investments at fair prices in a timely manner.

Liquidity risk is inherent in much of AEGON's business. Each asset purchased and liability sold has liquidity characteristics that are unique. Some liabilities are surrenderable while some assets, such as privately placed loans, mortgage loans, real estate and limited partnership interests, have low liquidity. AEGON built up its reserves of cash and liquid assets in 2009. In depressed markets we may be unable to sell or buy significant volumes of assets at quoted prices. In addition, any securities AEGON issues of significant volume may be issued at higher financing costs due to these current impaired liquidity conditions. Although AEGON manages its liquidity position for extreme events, including greatly reduced liquidity in capital markets, if these conditions were to persist for an extended period of time, AEGON may need to sell assets to meet its insurance obligations while still in this impaired liquidity market.

Approximately 35% of AEGON's general account investments are not highly liquid.

Underwriting risk

Differences between actual claims experience and underwriting and reserve assumptions may require liabilities to be increased.

AEGON's earnings depend significantly upon the extent to which actual claims experience is consistent with the assumptions used in setting the prices for its products and establishing the technical liabilities for expected claims. To the extent that actual claims experience is less favorable than the underlying assumptions used in establishing such liabilities, AEGON's income would be reduced. Furthermore, if the less favorable claims experience were expected to be a sustained trend AEGON may be required to increase liabilities for other related products, which could reduce its income. In addition, certain acquisition costs related to the sale of new policies and the purchase of policies already in force have been recorded as assets on the balance sheet and are being amortized into income over time. If the assumptions relating to the future profitability of these policies (such as future claims, investment income and expenses) are not realized, the amortization of these costs could be accelerated and may even require write-offs due to an expectation of unrecoverability. This could have a materially adverse effect on AEGON's reported results of operations and financial condition.

Sources of underwriting risk include policy lapses, policy claims (such as mortality and morbidity) and expenses. In general, AEGON is at risk if policy lapses increase as sometimes AEGON is unable to fully recover up front expenses in selling a product despite the presence of commission recoveries or surrender charges and fees. AEGON sells certain types of policies that are at risk if mortality or morbidity increases, such as term life insurance and accident insurance. AEGON also sells certain other types of policies that are at risk if mortality decreases (longevity risk) such as annuity products. AEGON is also at risk if expenses are higher than assumed by AEGON's management.

Other risks

AEGON may be required to increase its statutory reserves for certain of its products.

The National Association of Insurance Commissioners' (NAIC) Model Regulation entitled "Valuation of Life Insurance Policies," commonly known as "Regulation XXX," requires insurers in the United States to establish additional statutory reserves for term life insurance policies with long-term premium guarantees. In addition, "The Application of the Valuation of Life Insurance Policies Regulation", commonly known as "Regulation AXXX" requires insurers to establish additional statutory reserves for certain universal life insurance policies with secondary guarantees. Virtually all of AEGON's newly issued term and universal life insurance products in the USA are now affected by Regulations XXX and AXXX, respectively.

In response to these regulations, AEGON has implemented reinsurance and capital management actions to mitigate their impact. However, AEGON may not be able to implement actions to mitigate the impact of Regulation XXX and AXXX on future sales of term or universal life insurance products, potentially resulting in an adverse impact on these products and AEGON's market position in the life insurance market. Additionally, any change to or repeal of Regulation XXX or AXXX could also reduce the effectiveness of AEGON's reinsurance and capital management actions, adversely affecting its life insurance operations.

For certain of AEGON's products, market performance impacts the level of statutory reserves and statutory capital AEGON is required to hold, and may have an adverse effect on returns on capital associated with these products. Capacity for reserve funding available in the marketplace is currently limited as a result of market conditions generally. AEGON's ability to manage efficiently capital and economic reserve levels may be impacted, thereby impacting profitability and return on capital.

In addition, AEGON may not be able to comply fully with, or obtain appropriate exemptions from, the wide variety of laws and regulations applicable to insurance companies and insurance holding companies. Failure to comply with or to obtain appropriate exemptions under any applicable laws could result in restrictions on AEGON's ability to do business in one or more of the jurisdictions in which it operate and could result in fines and other sanctions, which may have a material adverse effect on AEGON's business or results of operations.

It is possible that there will be heightened oversight of insurers by regulatory authorities in the jurisdictions in which AEGON's subsidiaries are domiciled and operate. AEGON cannot predict specific proposals that might be adopted, or what impact, if any, such proposals or, if enacted, such laws, could have on our business, results of operations, or financial condition. The NAIC or state regulators may adopt revisions to applicable risk based capital formulas, the FSA may revise its capital adequacy requirements and minimum solvency margins, other jurisdictions in which AEGON's subsidiaries operate may increase their capital requirements, or rating agencies may incorporate higher capital thresholds into their quantitative analyses, thus requiring additional capital for AEGON's insurance subsidiaries. Increased financial services regulation, such as the European Commission's Solvency II directive, may impose greater quantitative requirements, supervisory review, and disclosure requirements and may impact the structure, business strategies, capital requirements, and profitability of AEGON's insurance subsidiaries.

A downgrade in AEGON's ratings may increase policy surrenders and withdrawals, adversely affect relationships with distributors and negatively affect its results.

Claims paying ability and financial strength ratings are factors in establishing the competitive position of insurers. A rating downgrade (or the potential for such a downgrade) of AEGON or any of AEGON's rated insurance subsidiaries may, among other things, materially increase the number of policy surrenders and withdrawals by policyholders of cash values from their policies. These withdrawals may require the sale of invested assets, including illiquid assets, at a price that may result in realized investment losses. These cash payments to policyholders would result in a decrease in total invested assets and a decrease in net income. Among other things, early withdrawals may also cause AEGON to accelerate amortization of deferred policy acquisition costs, reducing net income.

In addition, a downgrade may adversely affect relationships with broker-dealers, banks, agents, wholesalers and other distributors of AEGON's products and services, which may negatively impact new sales and adversely affect AEGON's ability to compete. This would have a materially adverse effect on AEGON's business, results of operations and financial condition.

At the end of December 2009, the Fitch, Moody's and Standard & Poor's (S&P) insurance financial strength ratings (IFSR) and ratings outlook for AEGON's primary life insurance companies in its leading country units were as follows:

	AEGON USA IFSR	AEGON The Netherlands IFSR	AEGON Scottish Equitable IFSR	AEGON N.V. Senior Debt Rating
S&P rating	AA-	AA-	AA-	A-
S&P outlook	Negative	Negative	Negative	Negative
Moody's outlook	Negative	Negative	Negative	Negative
Fitch outlook	Negative	Negative	Negative	Negative

During 2009, Moody's lowered its senior debt rating for AEGON N.V. to A3 with a negative outlook, Fitch lowered its senior debt rating to A with a negative outlook, while Standard & Poor's lowered its senior debt rating to A-. The outlook for all three credit ratings remained negative. At the same time, Moody's, Fitch and S&P also lowered the insurance financial strength ratings of AEGON USA by one notch, to A1, AA and AA-, respectively.

These downgrades had only limited effect on AEGON's business, as they were in line with similar actions taken by credit rating agencies affecting many of AEGON's direct peers as well as other companies in the broader insurance industry and because of the run-off of AEGON's institutional spread-based business in the United States.

AEGON cannot predict what additional actions rating agencies may take, or what actions AEGON may take in response to the actions of rating agencies, which could adversely affect AEGON's business. As with other companies in the financial services industry, AEGON's ratings could be downgraded at any time and without notice by any rating agency.

Changes in government regulations in the countries in which AEGON operates may affect profitability.

AEGON's insurance business is subject to comprehensive regulation and supervision in all countries in which it operates. The primary purpose of such regulation is to protect policyholders, not holders of securities. Changes in existing insurance laws and regulations may affect the way in which AEGON conduct business and the products offered. Changes in pension and employee benefit regulation, social security regulation, financial services regulation, taxation and the regulation of securities products and transactions may adversely affect AEGON's ability to sell new policies or claims exposure on existing policies. Additionally, the insurance laws or regulations adopted or amended from time to time may be more restrictive or may result in higher costs than current requirements. The continuing financial markets dislocation may lead to extensive changes in existing laws and regulations, and regulatory frameworks, applicable to AEGON's businesses in the countries in which it operates. Changes in these laws and regulations may materially increase AEGON's direct and indirect compliance and other expenses of doing business thus having a material adverse effect on AEGON's financial condition or results of operations.

Litigation and regulatory investigations may adversely affect AEGON's business, results of operations and financial condition.

AEGON faces significant risks of litigation and regulatory investigations and actions in connection with activities as an insurer, securities issuer, employer, investment advisor, investor and taxpayer.

In recent years, the insurance industry has increasingly been the subject of litigation, investigation and regulatory activity by various governmental and enforcement authorities concerning common industry practices such as the disclosure of contingent commissions and the accounting treatment of finite reinsurance or other non-traditional insurance products. AEGON subsidiaries have received inquiries from local authorities in various jurisdictions including the United States, the United Kingdom and the Netherlands. In certain instances, AEGON subsidiaries modified business practices in response to such inquiries or the findings thereof. Certain AEGON subsidiaries have been informed that the regulators may seek fines or other monetary penalties or changes in the way AEGON conducts its business.

AEGON cannot predict at this time the effect this current trend towards litigation and investigation will have on the insurance industry or AEGON's business. Lawsuits, including class actions and regulatory actions, may be difficult to assess or quantify, may seek recovery of very large and/or indeterminate amounts, including punitive and treble damages, and their existence and magnitude may remain unknown for substantial periods of time. A substantial legal liability or a significant regulatory action could have a materially adverse effect on AEGON's business, results of operations and financial condition.

AEGON may be unable to manage its risks successfully through derivatives.

AEGON is exposed to currency fluctuations, changes in the fair value of its investments, the impact of interest rate, equity markets and credit spread changes and changes in mortality and longevity. AEGON uses common financial derivative instruments such as swaps, options, futures and forward contracts to hedge some of the exposures related to both investments backing insurance products and company borrowings. This is a more pronounced risk to AEGON in view of the stresses suffered by financial institutions and the volatility of credit and equity markets. AEGON may not be able to manage the risks associated with these activities successfully through the use of derivatives. In addition, a counterparty may fail to honor the terms of its derivatives contracts with AEGON. AEGON's inability to manage risks successfully through derivatives or a counterparty's failure to honor its obligations or the systemic risk that failure is transmitted from counterparty to counterparty, could have a materially adverse effect on its business, results of operations and financial condition.

State statutes and foreign country regulators may limit the aggregate amount of dividends payable by subsidiaries of AEGON, thereby limiting AEGON's ability to make payments on debt obligations.

AEGON's ability to make payments on debt obligations and pay certain operating expenses is dependent upon the receipt of dividends from subsidiaries. Certain of these subsidiaries have regulatory restrictions that can limit the payment of dividends.

Changes in accounting policies may affect AEGON's reported results and shareholders' equity.

Since 2005, AEGON's financial statements have been prepared and presented in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board and adopted by the European Union. Any future change in these accounting principles may have a significant impact on AEGON's reported results, financial condition and shareholders' equity. This includes the level and volatility of reported results and shareholders' equity.

Tax law changes may adversely affect AEGON's profitability, as well as the sale and ownership of AEGON's products.

Insurance products enjoy certain tax advantages, particularly in the United States and the Netherlands, which permit the tax deferred accumulation of earnings on the premiums paid by the holders of annuities and life insurance products under certain conditions and within limits. Taxes on this inside build-up of earnings may not be payable at all and, if payable, generally are due only when the earnings are actually paid.

The US Congress has, from time to time, considered possible legislation that could make AEGON's products less attractive to consumers, including legislation that would reduce or eliminate the deferral of taxation on the accretion of value within certain annuities and life insurance products. In addition, the US Congress passed legislation in 2001 that provided for reductions in the estate tax and the possibility of permanent repeal of the estate tax continues to be discussed. This could have an impact on insurance products and sales in the United States.

The US Government, as well as state and local governments, also considers from time to time tax law changes that could increase the amount of taxes that AEGON pays. For example, the US Treasury Department and the Internal Revenue Service are expected to propose new regulations regarding the methodology to determine the dividends received deduction (DRD) related to variable life insurance and variable annuity contracts. The DRD reduces the amount of dividend income subject to tax and is a significant component of the difference between AEGON's effective tax rate and the federal statutory tax rate of 35%. A change in the DRD, including the possible elimination of this deduction, could reduce AEGON's consolidated net income.

Changes to tax laws in the Netherlands at the end of 2005 have reduced the attractiveness of early retirement plans, but tax advantages have been granted from January 1, 2006 for savings products known as Levensloop.

Any changes in United States or Dutch tax law affecting similar products could have a materially adverse effect on AEGON's business, results of operations and financial condition.

Competitive factors may adversely affect AEGON's market share.

Competition in AEGON's business segments is based on service, product features, price, commission structure, financial strength, claims paying ability, ratings and name recognition. AEGON faces intense competition from a large number of other insurers, as well as non-insurance financial services companies such as banks, broker-dealers and asset managers, for individual customers, employers, other group customers, agents and other distributors of insurance and investment products. Consolidation in the global financial services industry can enhance the competitive position of some of AEGON's competitors by broadening the range of their products and services, increasing their distribution channels and their access to capital. In addition, development of alternative distribution channels for certain types of insurance and securities products, including through the internet, may result in increasing competition as well as pressure on margins for certain types of products. These competitive pressures could result in increased pricing pressures on a number of products and services, particularly as competitors seek to win market share. This may harm AEGON's ability to maintain or increase profitability.

The adverse market and economic conditions that began in the second half of 2007 and that have continued and worsened since then can be expected to result in changes in the competitive landscape. For example, the financial distress experienced by certain financial services industry participants as a result of such conditions may lead to acquisition opportunities. AEGON's ability to pursue such opportunities may be limited due to lower earnings, reserve increases or a lack of access to debt capital markets and other sources of financing and any conditions placed on companies that received state aid by the European Commission. Such conditions may also lead to changes by AEGON or its competitors in product offerings and product pricing that could affect AEGON's and their relative sales volumes, market shares and profitability. Additionally, the competitive landscape in which AEGON operates may be further affected by government sponsored programs or actions in response to the severe dislocations in financial markets.

The default of a major market participant could disrupt the markets.

The failure of a sufficiently large and influential institution could disrupt securities markets or clearance and settlement systems in AEGON's markets. This could cause market declines or volatility. Such a failure could lead to a chain of defaults that could adversely affect AEGON and its contract counterparties. In addition, such a failure could impact future product sales as a potential result of reduced confidence in the insurance industry.

The experience suffered by AIG in the aftermath of the bankruptcy of Lehman Brothers in September 2008 is an example of this type of risk. Management believes that despite increased attention recently systemic risk to the markets in which AEGON operates continues to exist, and dislocations caused by the interdependency of financial market participants continues to be a potential source of material adverse changes to AEGON's business, results of operations and financial condition.

AEGON may be unable to retain personnel who are key to the business.

As a global financial services enterprise with a decentralized management structure, AEGON relies, to a considerable extent on the quality of local management in the various countries in which AEGON operates. The success of AEGON's operations is dependent, among other things, on AEGON's ability to attract and retain highly qualified professional personnel. Competition for key personnel in most countries in which AEGON operates is intense. AEGON's ability to attract and retain key personnel, in particular senior officers, experienced portfolio managers, mutual fund managers and sales executives, is dependent on a number of factors, including prevailing market conditions and compensation packages offered by companies competing for the same talent. Any failure by AEGON to retain or attract qualified personnel, or to do so at rates necessary to maintain its competitive position, could have a material adverse effect on its business, revenues, results or financial condition. Further, the financial services industry may experience more stringent regulation of employee compensation or employee compensation may be made subject to special taxation, which could have a material adverse effect on AEGON's ability to retain or attract the most qualified employees.

Judgments of US courts are not enforceable against AEGON in Dutch courts.

The United States and the Netherlands do not currently have a treaty providing for the reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments (other than arbitration awards) in civil and commercial matters. Judgments of US courts, including those predicated on the civil liability provisions of the federal securities laws of the United States, may not be enforceable in Dutch courts. Therefore, AEGON's shareholders that obtain a judgment against AEGON in the United States may not be able to require AEGON to pay the amount of the judgment unless a competent court in the Netherlands gives binding effect to the judgment. It may, however, be possible for a US investor to bring an original action in a Dutch court to enforce liabilities against AEGON, its affiliates, directors, officers or any expert named therein who reside outside the United States, based upon the US federal securities laws.

Reinsurers to whom AEGON has ceded risk may fail to meet their obligations.

AEGON's insurance subsidiaries cede premiums to other insurers under various agreements that cover individual risks, group risks or defined blocks of business, on a co-insurance, yearly renewable term, excess or catastrophe excess basis. These reinsurance agreements spread the risk and minimize the effect of losses. The amount of each risk retained depends on evaluation of the specific risk, which is subject, in certain circumstances, to maximum limits based on the characteristics of coverage. Under the terms of the reinsurance agreements the reinsurer agrees to reimburse for the ceded amount in the event the claim is paid. However, AEGON's insurance subsidiaries remain liable to their policyholders with respect to ceded insurance if any reinsurer fails to meet the obligations assumed by it.

In accordance with industry practices, AEGON reinsures a portion of its life insurance exposure with unaffiliated insurance companies under traditional indemnity reinsurance arrangements. Approximately 33% of AEGON's total direct and assumed (for which AEGON act as a reinsurer for others) life insurance in force is ceded to other insurers. In the United States, Transamerica Reinsurance retrocedes a significant portion of the risk it assumes. The major reinsurers of AEGON USA and AEGON Canada are Munich Re, RGA and Swiss Re. The major reinsurers of AEGON UK are Swiss Re and XL Re. The major reinsurer for life insurance for AEGON The Netherlands is Swiss Re while the non-life reinsurance is diversified across several providers including Lloyds market syndicates. The major reinsurers of AEGON Hungary for non-life are Swiss Re, Munich Re and Hannover Re and for life insurance are Munich Re and RGA. AEGON Spain's major reinsurers are General Re, Nacional de Reaseguros, Munich Re and Swiss Re. AEGON China's major reinsurers are General Re, Munich Re and Swiss Re.

Reinsurance may not be available, affordable or adequate to protect AEGON against losses.

As part of AEGON's overall risk and capacity management strategy AEGON purchases reinsurance for certain risks underwritten by its various business segments. Market conditions beyond AEGON's control determine the availability and cost of the reinsurance protection AEGON purchases. Accordingly, AEGON may be forced to incur additional expenses for reinsurance or may not be able to obtain sufficient reinsurance on acceptable terms, which could adversely affect its ability to write future business.

AEGON may have difficulty managing its expanding operations and AEGON may not be successful in acquiring new businesses or divesting existing operations.

In recent years AEGON has made a number of acquisitions and divestitures around the world and may make further acquisitions and divestitures in the future. Growth by acquisition involves risks that could adversely affect AEGON's operating results and financial condition. These include: the potential diversion of financial and management resources from existing operations; difficulties in assimilating the operations, technologies, products and personnel of the acquired company; significant delays in completing the integration of acquired companies; the potential loss of key employees or customers of the acquired company; potential losses from unanticipated litigation; and tax and accounting issues.

AEGON's acquisitions could result in additional indebtedness, costs, contingent liabilities and impairment expenses related to goodwill and other intangible assets. In addition, they may divert management's attention and other resources. Divestitures of existing operations could result in AEGON assuming or retaining certain contingent liabilities. All of the foregoing could adversely affect AEGON's businesses, results of operations and financial condition. Future acquisitions may also have a dilutive effect on the ownership and voting percentages of existing shareholders. There can be no assurance that AEGON will successfully identify suitable acquisition candidates or that AEGON will properly value acquisitions made. AEGON is unable to predict whether or when any prospective acquisition candidate will become available or the likelihood that any acquisition will be completed once negotiations have commenced.

Catastrophic events, which are often unpredictable by nature, could result in material losses and abruptly and significantly interrupt AEGON's business activities.

AEGON's operating results and financial position can be adversely affected by volatile natural and man-made disasters such as hurricanes, windstorms, earthquakes, terrorism, riots, fires and explosions, pandemic disease and other catastrophes. Over the past several years changing weather patterns and climatic conditions have added to the unpredictability and frequency of natural disasters in certain parts of the world and created additional uncertainty as to future trends and exposure. Generally, AEGON seeks to reduce its exposure to these events through individual risk selection, monitoring risk accumulation and purchasing reinsurance. However, such events could lead to considerable financial loss to AEGON's business. Furthermore, natural disasters, terrorism and fires could disrupt AEGON's operations and result in significant loss of property, key personnel and information about AEGON's clients and AEGON. If AEGON's business continuity plans have not included effective contingencies for such events they could adversely affect its business, results of operations, corporate reputation and financial condition for a substantial period of time.

AEGON regularly develops new financial products to remain competitive in its markets and to meet the expectations of its clients. If clients do not achieve expected returns on those products, AEGON may be confronted with legal claims, pressure groups and negative publicity.

AEGON may face claims from customers and adverse negative publicity if its products result in losses or fail to result in expected gains, regardless of the suitability of products for customers or the adequacy of the disclosure provided to customers by AEGON and by the intermediaries who distribute its products. New products that are less well understood and that have less of a historical performance track record may be more likely to be the subject of such claims. Any such claims could have a materially adverse effect on AEGON's results of operations, corporate reputation and financial condition.

AEGON's operations support complex transactions and are highly dependent on the proper functioning of information technology and communication systems. Any failure of AEGON's information technology or communications systems may result in a material adverse effect on its results of operations and corporate reputation.

While systems and processes are designed to support complex transactions and to avoid systems failure, fraud, information security failures, processing errors and breaches of regulation, any failure could lead to a materially adverse effect on AEGON's results of operations and corporate reputation. In addition, AEGON must commit significant resources to maintain and enhance its existing systems in order to keep pace with industry standards and customer preferences. If AEGON fails to keep up-to-date information systems, AEGON may not be able to rely on accurate information for product pricing, risk management and underwriting decisions.

Inadequate or failed processes or systems, human factors or external events could adversely affect AEGON's profitability, reputation or operational effectiveness.

Operational risk is inherent in AEGON's business and can manifest itself in many ways including business interruption, poor vendor performance, information systems malfunctions or failures, regulatory breaches, human errors, employee misconduct, and/or internal and external fraud. These events can potentially result in financial loss, harm to AEGON's reputation and hinder AEGON's operational effectiveness. Management attempts to control these risks and keep operational risk at appropriate levels by maintaining a well-controlled environment and sound policies and practices. Notwithstanding these control measures, however, operational risk is part of the business environment in which AEGON operates and is inherent in AEGON's size as well as its geographic diversity and the scope of the businesses it operates. AEGON's risk management activities cannot anticipate every economic and financial outcome or the specifics and timing of such outcomes. AEGON may incur losses from time to time due to these types of risks.

Proceedings with and a decision of the European Commission with respect to the measures notified under the EU state aid provisions may have a material adverse affect on AEGON's business, results of operations and financial condition.

As required under European Union state aid rules, the Dutch State notified the European Commission of the issuance by AEGON in December 2008 of EUR 3 billion of non-voting convertible core capital securities to Vereniging AEGON, which was funded by the Dutch State. In 2008, the European Commission found the aid provided by the Dutch State to be compatible with the common market, raised no objection against the notified aid and authorized it as emergency intervention in the face of the financial crisis for a period of six months. Emergency intervention is required to be re-evaluated after six months on the basis of a credible and substantiated plan for the long term viability of AEGON. Provided a credible plan is submitted, the authorization of the emergency intervention is automatically prolonged until the European Commission reaches its decision on this viability plan. The European Commission distinguishes between institutions which are fundamentally sound and institutions suffering from more structural solvency problems. Should the European Commission conclude that AEGON does not qualify as a fundamentally sound institution, the European Commission might expect us to take other and additional (restructuring) measures than those currently foreseen in order to find the Dutch State aid compatible with the common market. Should the European Commission conclude that, on the basis of the viability plan or at any time as long as the Dutch State loan to Vereniging AEGON is in place, the Dutch State aid ceases to be compatible with the common market, the European Commission might ultimately oblige the Dutch State to unwind the December 2008 transaction, which would require the EUR 2 billion remaining outstanding to be repaid to the Dutch State. The Dutch State recently submitted a viability plan regarding AEGON to the European Commission, which is evaluating the plan. Due to a lack of sufficient certainty about the application of state aid provided to financial institutions in the context of the current global financial crisis, it is not possible to provide additional specificity on either the timing or likelihood of outcome of the European Commission's evaluation. A failure by the European Commission to reach a final decision on the acceptability of this viability plan within a reasonable timeframe could have a material adverse effect on AEGON's business, results of operations and financial condition, primarily due to uncertainty regarding the possible consequences of such a decision.

1.2 Risks relating to AEGON's common shares

AEGON's share price could be volatile and could drop unexpectedly making it difficult for investors to resell AEGON's common shares at or above the price paid.

The price at which AEGON's common shares trade will be influenced by a large number of factors, some of which will be specific to AEGON and its operations and some of which will be related to the insurance industry and equity markets in general. As a result of these factors, investors may not be able to resell their common shares at or above the price paid for them. In particular, the following factors, in addition to other risk factors described in this section, may have a material impact on the market price of AEGON's common shares:

- Investor perception of AEGON as a company;

- Actual or anticipated fluctuations in AEGON's revenues or operating results;
- Announcement of intended acquisitions, disposals or financings, speculation about such acquisitions, disposals or financings;
- Changes in AEGON's dividend policy, which could result from changes in AEGON's cash flow and capital position;
- Sales of blocks of AEGON's shares by significant shareholders, including Vereniging AEGON;
- Price and timing of any refinancing or conversion of AEGON's convertible core capital securities;
- A downgrade or rumored downgrade of AEGON's credit or financial strength ratings, including placement on credit watch;
- Potential litigation involving AEGON or the insurance industry in general;
- Changes in financial estimates and recommendations by securities research analysts;
- Fluctuations in capital markets including foreign exchange rates, interest rates and equity markets;
- The performance of other companies in the insurance sector;
- Regulatory developments in the Netherlands, the United States, Canada, the United Kingdom and Other Countries;
- International political and economic conditions, including the effects of terrorist attacks, military operations and other developments stemming from such events and the uncertainty related to these developments;
- News or analyst reports related to markets or industries in which AEGON operates; and
- General insurance market conditions.

The high and low prices of AEGON's common shares on Euronext Amsterdam were EUR 11.98 and EUR 2.68 respectively in 2008 and EUR 6.17 and EUR 1.85 respectively in 2009. The high and low sales prices of AEGON's common shares on the NYSE were USD 16.75 and USD 3.50 respectively in 2008 and USD 9.23 and USD 2.30 respectively in 2009. All share prices are closing prices.

AEGON and its significant shareholders may offer (additional) common shares in the future, and these and other sales may adversely affect the market price of the outstanding common shares.

It is possible that AEGON may decide to offer additional common shares in the future, for example, to effect an acquisition.

In connection with Vereniging AEGON's refinancing in September 2002, it entered into an equity repurchase facility and a back-up credit facility. On February 9, 2010 both facilities were replaced by a three year term and revolving facilities agreement with a consortium of banks that can be extended until 2014. Under the new agreement AEGON common shares in the possession of Vereniging AEGON are pledged to the consortium of banks. If Vereniging AEGON is in default under the facilities agreement, the lenders may dispose of our common shares held by them as collateral in order to satisfy amounts outstanding.

An additional offering of common shares by AEGON, sales of common shares by significant shareholders or by lenders to Vereniging AEGON, or the public perception that an offering or such sales may occur, could have an adverse effect on the market price of AEGON's common shares. As of December 31, 2009, the total authorized share capital of AEGON consisted of 3,000,000,000 common shares, par value euro 0.12 per share, and 1,000,000,000 preferred shares A and B, par value euro 0.25 per share. All AEGON's outstanding common shares are freely tradable, and all shareholders, including large shareholders such as Vereniging AEGON, are free to resell their shares at any time.

The convertible core capital securities issued to Vereniging AEGON may be converted into common shares and dilute existing common shareholders.

On December 1, 2008, AEGON issued new convertible core capital securities to Vereniging AEGON as part of the special transaction securing the provision of capital to AEGON by the State of the Netherlands via Vereniging AEGON. The terms of the convertible core capital securities permit AEGON, on or after December 1, 2011, to convert any or all of the convertible core capital securities into common shares on a one-for-one basis. Any conversion to common shares would dilute existing common shareholders. If AEGON exercises its conversion right, Vereniging AEGON may opt to require AEGON to redeem the convertible core capital securities on the conversion date.

Vereniging AEGON, AEGON's major shareholder, holds a large percentage of the voting shares and therefore has significant influence over AEGON's corporate actions.

Prior to September 2002, Vereniging AEGON, beneficially owned approximately 52% of the voting shares and thus held voting control over AEGON. In September 2002, Vereniging AEGON reduced its beneficial ownership to approximately 33% of the voting shares (excluding issued common shares held in treasury by AEGON). Pursuant to the 1983 Merger Agreement between AEGON and Vereniging AEGON, as amended, in case of an issuance of shares by AEGON, Vereniging AEGON may purchase as many class B preferred shares as would enable it to prevent or correct a dilution to below its actual percentage of the voting shares, unless Vereniging AEGON as a result of exercising these option rights would increase its voting power to more than 33%. The option granted to Vereniging AEGON permits it to purchase class B preferred shares up to a maximum of the non-issued part of the class B preferred shares included from time to time in AEGON's authorized capital if necessary to prevent or correct such dilution. The class B preferred shares would then be issued at par value (euro 0.25), unless a higher price is agreed. In the years 2003 through 2007, 35,170,000 class B preferred shares were issued under these option rights. In 2008, no option rights existed. In 2009, Vereniging AEGON exercised its option rights to purchase in aggregate 33,860,000 class B preferred shares at par value to correct dilution caused by AEGON's EUR 1 billion equity issue as completed in August 2009.

In addition, AEGON has implemented certain changes to its corporate governance structure and the relationship with Vereniging AEGON pursuant to which Vereniging AEGON has voluntarily waived its right to cast 25/12 vote per class A or class B preferred share. Consequently, under normal circumstances Vereniging AEGON's voting power, based on the current numbers of outstanding and voting shares, is reduced to approximately 23.76% of the votes exercisable in the General Meeting of Shareholders. However, this reduction in voting percentage is not applicable in all circumstances. In certain limited circumstances at the sole discretion of Vereniging AEGON (such as the acquisition of 15% of the voting shares, a tender offer for shares or a proposed business combination, each by any person or group of persons whether individually or acting as a group, other than in a transaction approved by the Executive Board and Supervisory Board), Vereniging AEGON's voting rights for a limited period of 6 months, will increase to a percentage that currently amounts to 33.0%. Consequently, Vereniging AEGON may have substantial influence on the outcome of corporate actions requiring shareholder approval, including:

- Adopting amendments to the Articles of Association;
- Adopting the annual accounts;
- Approving a consolidation or liquidation;
- Approving a tender offer, merger, sale of all or substantially all of the assets or other business combination;
- In particular during the periods when Vereniging AEGON is entitled to exercise its increased voting rights, it will generally have sufficient voting power to veto certain decisions presented to the General Meeting of Shareholders, including any proposal relating to the following matters:
 - (1) Rejecting binding Supervisory Board nominations for membership on the Supervisory Board and Executive Board;
 - (2) Appointing an Executive Board or Supervisory Board member other than pursuant to Supervisory Board nomination; and
 - (3) Suspending or removing an Executive Board or Supervisory Board member other than pursuant to a Supervisory Board proposal.

Currency fluctuations may adversely affect the trading prices of AEGON's common shares and the value of any cash distributions made.

Because AEGON's common shares listed on Euronext Amsterdam are quoted in euros and AEGON's common shares listed on the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) are quoted in US dollars, fluctuations in exchange rates between the euro and the US dollar may affect the value of AEGON shares. In addition, AEGON declares cash dividends in euros, but pay cash dividends, if any, on AEGON's New York shares in US dollars based on an exchange rate set the business day following the shareholder meeting approving the dividend. As a result, fluctuations in exchange rates may affect the value of any cash dividends paid.

Convertible securities (or other securities that permit or require AEGON to satisfy its obligations by issuing common shares) that AEGON may issue could influence the market price for AEGON's common shares.

Any market that develops for convertible securities or other securities that permit or require AEGON to satisfy obligations by issuing common shares that it has issued or may issue in the future would be likely to influence, and be influenced by, the market for AEGON's common shares. For example, the price of AEGON's common shares could become more volatile and could be depressed by investors' anticipation of the potential resale in the market of substantial amounts of AEGON's common shares received at maturity. AEGON's common shares could also be depressed by the acceleration of any convertible securities (or other such securities) that AEGON has issued by investors who view such convertible securities (or other such securities) as a more attractive means of participation in AEGON's equity. Negative results could also be produced by hedging or arbitrage trading activity that may develop involving such convertible securities (or other such securities) and AEGON's common shares. Any such developments could negatively affect the value of AEGON's common shares.

6. Information about AEGON N.V.

AEGON N.V., domiciled in the Netherlands, is a public limited liability company organized and operating under Dutch law. AEGON N.V. was formed in 1983 pursuant to a merger agreement dated October 18, 1983 between Vereniging AGO, AGO Holding N.V. and Ennia N.V. AGO Holding N.V. and Ennia N.V. both were successors to insurance companies founded in the 1800's.

AEGON N.V. is headquartered in the Netherlands and employs, through its subsidiaries, about 31,000 people worldwide as of December 31, 2009. AEGON's common shares are listed on stock exchanges in Amsterdam (Euronext), New York (NYSE) and London.

AEGON's businesses focus on life insurance, pensions, savings, and investment products. AEGON is also active in accident, supplemental health, general insurance, and some limited banking activities. AEGON N.V. is a holding company. The operations described above are conducted through operating subsidiaries. AEGON's established markets are the United States, the Netherlands and the United Kingdom. In addition, AEGON is present in over 20 other markets in the Americas, Europe and Asia.

AEGON encourages product innovation and fosters an entrepreneurial spirit within its businesses. New products and services are developed by local business units with a continuous focus on cost control. AEGON uses a multi-brand, multi-channel distribution approach to meet its customers' needs.

As of Q1 2010 AEGON has the following reportable operating segments: the Americas (which include the United States, Canada, Brazil and Mexico), the Netherlands, the United Kingdom and New markets, which include businesses operating in Central & Eastern Europe, Asia, Spain and France as well as AEGON's variable annuity activities in Europe and AEGON Asset Management.

7. Memorandum and Articles of Association AEGON N.V.

AEGON N.V. has its statutory seat in The Hague, the Netherlands. AEGON is registered under number 27076669 in the Commercial Register of the Chamber of Commerce and Industries for Haaglanden, The Hague, the Netherlands.

Certain provisions of AEGON's current Articles of Association are discussed below.

7.1 Objects and purposes

Article 3 of the Articles of Association dated May 4, 2010, reads as follows:

(1) The objects of AEGON are to incorporate, acquire and alienate shares and interests in, to finance and grant security for commitments of, to enter into general business relationships with, and to manage and grant services to legal entities and other entities, in particular those involved in the insurance business, and to do all that is connected therewith or which may be conducive thereto, all to be interpreted in the broadest sense.

(2) In achieving the aforesaid objects due regard shall be taken, within the scope of sound business operations, to provide fair safeguards for the interests of all the parties directly or indirectly involved in AEGON.

7.2 Provisions related to directors

For information with respect to provisions in the Articles of Association relating to members of the Supervisory Board and Executive Board, see the Articles of Association dated May 4, 2010, available on AEGON's company website.

7.3 Description of AEGON's capital stock

AEGON has two types of shares: Common Shares (par value EUR 0.12) and (class A and class B) Preferred shares (par value EUR 0.25).

Common Characteristics of the Common and Preferred Shares

(1) All shares are in registered form.

(2) All shares have dividend rights except for those shares (if any) held by AEGON as treasury stock. Dividends which have not been claimed within five years lapse to AEGON.

(3) Each currently outstanding share is entitled to one vote except for shares held by AEGON as treasury stock. There are no upward restrictions.

However, Vereniging AEGON, the sole holder of preferred shares may cast 25/12 votes per preferred share in line with their higher par value. Vereniging AEGON and AEGON have entered into a preferred shares voting rights agreement, pursuant to which Vereniging AEGON has voluntarily waived its right to cast 25/12 votes per class A or class B preferred share. Instead, Vereniging AEGON has agreed to exercise one vote only per preferred share, except in the event of a 'special cause', such as the acquisition of a 15% interest in AEGON N.V., a tender offer for AEGON N.V. shares or a proposed business combination by any person or group of persons, whether individually or as a group, other than in a transaction approved by the Executive Board and Supervisory Board). If, at its sole discretion, Vereniging AEGON determines that a 'special cause' has occurred, Vereniging AEGON shall notify the General Meeting of Shareholders and retain its right to exercise the full voting power of 25/12 votes per preferred share for a limited period of six months.

(4) All shares have the right to participate in AEGON's net profits. Net profits is the amount of profits after contributions, if any, to a reserve account.

(5) In the event of liquidation, all shares have the right to participate in any remaining balance after settlement of all debts.

(6) The General Meeting of Shareholders may, at the proposal of the Executive Board, as approved by the Supervisory Board, resolve to reduce the outstanding capital either by (i) repurchasing shares and subsequently canceling them, or (ii) by reducing their nominal share value.

(7) There are no sinking fund provisions.

(8) All issued shares are fully paid-up; so there is no liability for further capital calls.

(9) There are no provisions discriminating against any existing or prospective holder of shares as a result of such shareholder owning a substantial number of shares.

Differences between common and preferred shares

(1) The Common Shares are listed; the preferred shares are not listed.

(2) Preferred shares under certain circumstances are entitled to cast 25/12 votes per share in line with their higher nominal value.

(3) Preferred shares are entitled to a preferred dividend on the paid-in amount, restricted to the fixed rate set by the European Central Bank for basic refinancing transactions plus 1.75%. No additional dividend is paid on the preferred shares and the remaining profit is available for distribution to the holders of Common Shares.

(4) Any remaining balance after settlement of all debts in the event of liquidation, will first be allocated (to the extent possible) to repaying the paid-in capital on the preferred shares.

(5) Holders of Common Shares have pre-emptive rights in relation to any issuance of Common Shares, while holders of preferred shares have no such pre-emptive rights.

7.4 Actions necessary to change the rights of shareholders

A change to the rights of shareholders would require an amendment to the Articles of Association. The General Meeting of Shareholders (annual General Meeting or extraordinary General Meeting) may only pass a resolution to amend the Articles of Association pursuant to a proposal of the Executive Board with the approval of the Supervisory Board. The resolution requires a majority of the votes cast at the meeting in order to pass. The actual changes to the text of the Articles of Association will be executed by a civil law notary upon certification that the Minister of Justice does not object.

Furthermore, a resolution of the General Meeting of Shareholders to amend the Articles of Association which has the effect of reducing the rights attributable to holders of preferred shares of a specific class shall be subject to the approval of the meeting of holders of preferred shares of such class.

7.5 Conditions under which meetings are held

Annual General Meetings and extraordinary General Meetings of Shareholders shall be convened by an announcement in one or more Dutch daily newspapers and is made available to the general public through a press release and on AEGON's company website. Notice must be given no later than the fifteenth day prior to the date of the meeting or such longer notice period as the law may prescribe. The notice in the newspaper must contain a summary agenda and indicate the place where the complete agenda together with the documents pertaining to the agenda may be obtained. The agenda is also sent to shareholders registered with the Company Register. New York Registry shareholders or to their brokers receive a proxy solicitation notice.

For admittance to and voting at the meeting, shareholders must produce evidence of their shareholding as of the record date set by the Executive Board. Shareholders must notify AEGON of their intention to attend the meeting.

7.6 Limitation on the right to own securities

There are no limitations, either under the laws of the Netherlands or in AEGON's Articles of Association, on the rights of non-residents of the Netherlands to hold or vote AEGON Common Shares.

7.7 Provisions that would have the effect of delaying a change of control

A resolution of the General Meeting of Shareholders to suspend or dismiss a member of the Executive Board or a member of the Supervisory Board, other than pursuant to a proposal by the Supervisory Board, shall require at least two-thirds of the votes cast representing more than one-half of the issued capital.

In the event a "special cause" occurs (such as the acquisition of 15% of AEGON's voting shares, a tender offer for AEGON's shares or a proposed business combination by any person or group of persons, whether individually or as a group, other than in a transaction approved by the Executive Board and Supervisory Board), Vereniging AEGON will be entitled to exercise its full voting rights of 25/12 votes per preferred share for up to six months per "special cause", thus increasing its current voting rights to 33%.

7.8 Threshold above which shareholder ownership must be disclosed

There are no such provisions in the Articles of Association. Dutch law requires public disclosure to a supervising government agency with respect to the ownership of listed shares when the following thresholds are met: 5%, 10%, 15%, 20%, 25%, 30%, 40%, 50%, 60%, 75% and 95%.

7.9 Special Conditions Governing Changes in the Capital

There are no conditions more stringent than what is required by law.

8. Legal and arbitration proceedings

AEGON is involved in litigation in the ordinary course of business in connection with activities as an insurer, securities issuer, employer, investment advisor, investor and taxpayer, including litigation where very large or, indeterminate amounts, compensatory or punitive damages and mass or class relief are sought. In particular, certain current and former customers, and groups representing customers, have initiated litigation and certain groups are encouraging others to bring lawsuits in respect of certain products in the Netherlands. The products involved include securities leasing products and unit-linked products (so called 'beleggingsverzekeringen' including the KoersPlan product). AEGON has established adequate litigation policies to deal with the claims defending when the claim is without merit and seeking to settle in certain circumstances.

In addition, in recent years, the insurance industry has increasingly been the subject of litigation, investigations and regulatory activity by various governmental and enforcement authorities concerning certain practices. AEGON subsidiaries have received inquiries from local authorities in various jurisdictions including the United States, the United Kingdom and the Netherlands. In certain instances, AEGON subsidiaries modified business practices in response to such inquiries or the findings thereof. Certain AEGON subsidiaries have been informed that the regulators may seek fines or other monetary penalties or changes in the way AEGON conducts its business.

In the Netherlands, there is increased litigation regarding transparency issues and the charges (including insurance premium) included in unit-linked products. AEGON's KoersPlan product is a unit-linked product which was sold in substantial volumes in the Netherlands. AEGON appealed against an unfavorable decision of a lower court in the Netherlands in May 2009. This decision does not have a direct effect on claims brought by individual clients but, if this decision is ultimately upheld on appeal and/or by the Dutch Supreme Court and is followed by other courts in the Netherlands in individual cases, it could have a significant negative effect on AEGON's financial position or profitability. In July 2009, AEGON entered into an arrangement with Stichting Verliespolis en Stichting Woekerpolis Claim regarding the maximum costs of its unit-linked products sold before January 1, 2008. AEGON will compensate individuals at the termination date of such product if the actual total costs turn out to be in excess of this maximum. The Ombudsman Financiële Dienstverlening supports this arrangement.

While it is not feasible to predict or determine the ultimate outcome of all pending or threatened litigation, investigations and regulatory action, AEGON is of the opinion it is not involved in any governmental, legal or arbitration proceedings (including any such proceedings which are pending or threatened of which it is aware) in the last twelve months preceding the date hereof which may have or had in such period any significant effects on the financial position or profitability of AEGON N.V. or the Group, other than the litigation regarding the Koersplan product described above.

On August 5, 2009, the Enterprise Chamber of the Amsterdam court of appeals in the Netherlands ruled in favor of AEGON in connection with a dispute with unions and employers in the harbors of Rotterdam regarding the consolidation of equity of OPTAS, a life insurance company AEGON acquired at the beginning of 2007. The court rejected a request to order a restatement of AEGON's financial statements over 2007. The foundation representing the employers and insured harbor employees in the harbors appealed to the Dutch Supreme Court. AEGON does not expect the Dutch Supreme Court's decision to be adverse. The proceedings did not have nor does AEGON expect that they may have a material adverse effect on the company's financial position or profitability.

On February 20, 2009, the Stichting Onderzoek Bedrijfs Informatie SOBI (Stichting SOBI) has filed a complaint against Mr. J.J. Nooitgedagt at the Raad van Tucht voor Registeraccountants en Accountants Administratieconsulenten in The Hague (Raad van Tucht). The complaint related to discrediting the accounting profession as a result of accepting his appointment at AEGON N.V. On March 15, 2010, the Raad van Tucht has ruled against SOBI and has rejected all complaints made by Stichting SOBI against Mr. Nooitgedagt. Stichting SOBI has lodged appeal at the College van Beroep voor het Bedrijfsleven against the decision of the Raad van Tucht. AEGON does not expect the College van Beroep voor het Bedrijfsleven decision to be adverse. The proceedings did not have nor does AEGON expect that they may have a material adverse effect on the company's financial position or profitability.

10. Executive Board AEGON N.V.

The Executive Board is charged with the management of the company. Each member of the Board has duties related to his or her specific areas of expertise. The number of Executive Board members and the terms of their employment are determined by AEGON's Supervisory Board. Executive Board members are appointed by the General Meeting of Shareholders following nomination by the Supervisory Board.

Alexander R. Wynaendts – CEO (1960, Dutch nationality) began his career with ABN AMRO in 1984 and had several assignments in asset management (Amsterdam) and corporate finance (London). In 1997, he joined AEGON's Group Business Development department and was promoted to Executive Vice-President and head of Group Business Development in May 1998. In 2003 he was appointed a member of the Executive Board of AEGON N.V. Mr. Wynaendts has been reappointed as member of the Executive Board in the Annual General Meeting of Shareholders of AEGON N.V. in 2007. His current term of office will end in 2011.

Jan J. Nooitgedagt – CFO (1953, Dutch nationality) began his career in 1977 with PriceWaterhouseCoopers before joining Ernst & Young in 1980. He became a partner of the firm in 1989. In addition to his audit experience, Mr. Nooitgedagt has played a key role in developing Ernst & Young's financial services business, as well as taking a leading role in the firm's growing Merger & Acquisitions advisory practice. Mr. Nooitgedagt headed Ernst & Young's financial services business in the Netherlands for five years, until his appointment in 2005 to the firm's Executive Committee in the Netherlands. A year later, Mr. Nooitgedagt was appointed Chairman of Ernst & Young in the Netherlands, before being named Managing Partner for the Netherlands and Belgium in July 2008. In April 2009 he joined AEGON N.V. and was appointed as a member of the Executive Board. His current term of office will end in 2013.

In the last 5 years, none of the members of the Executive Board has been declared, by a judicial authority, to have acted fraudulently or to be incapable to act as a member of a supervisory body or management body of an issuing institution. In the last 5 years, none of the members of the Executive Board has been involved, in the capacity of a member of a supervisory body or management body of a company, in any bankruptcy, suspension of payment or winding-up of such company. Furthermore, in the last five years, none of the members of Executive Board has been officially incriminated or sanctioned by statutory or regulatory authorities (including designated professional bodies).

There are no potential conflicts of interest with respect to the members of the Executive Board between their duties to AEGON and their private interests and/or other duties, except for their position as member of the Executive Committee of Vereniging AEGON, as described on page 73 of the Annual Report 2009.

As far as AEGON is aware, no further information is to be disclosed in respect of the members of the Executive Board, Management Board and the Supervisory Board pursuant to section 14.1 of Annex 1 to the EU Prospectus Regulation.

13. Conflicts of interest

The Code of Conduct addresses conflicts of interest that may occur between AEGON and its employees, including the members of the Executive Board. More detailed regulations regarding conflicts of interest between members of the Executive Board and AEGON are included in the Executive Board Rules. Both documents are available on AEGON's website. Any transactions in which there are conflicts of interest shall be agreed on terms customary in the industry and are published in the annual report.

Under the provisions of the Dutch Corporate Governance Code, the membership of Messrs. Nooitgedagt and Wynaendts on the Executive Committee of Vereniging AEGON may give rise to deemed conflicts of interest. Mr. Nooitgedagt joined the Executive Committee of Vereniging AEGON on 22 April 2009. However, the Articles of association of Vereniging AEGON provide that Messrs Nooitgedagt and Wynaendts are excluded from voting on certain issues relating directly to AEGON (including the adoption of annual accounts, discharge of members of the Executive Board and appointments to the Executive Board and Supervisory Board of AEGON).

The Supervisory and Executive Boards have drawn up a protocol that provides that the members of the Executive Board who also serve on the Executive committee of Vereniging AEGON shall continue to participate in discussions and decision-making relating to possible transactions with Vereniging AEGON. The Supervisory Board is confident that by adhering to this protocol the deemed conflict of interests with Vereniging AEGON are adequately dealt with and that the best practice provisions of the Code have been complied with in all material respects. The protocol is posted on AEGON's website.

There are no conflicting interests between any of the duties of the members of the Executive Board and their respective private interests or other duties.

14. Subsequent Events after March 31, 2010

On April 1, 2010 AEGON has completed the sale of its funeral insurance business in the Netherlands to Dutch investment firm Egeria for EUR 212 million. The sale was announced on February 1, 2010. In 2009, AEGON's funeral insurance business generated approximately EUR 70 million in gross written premiums.

On June 22, 2010 AEGON released a press release in which it announced that, as part of the measures to sharpen its strategic focus on its core businesses of life insurance, pensions and asset management, AEGON intends to explore strategic options for its life reinsurance business, Transamerica Reinsurance, which include finding a suitable buyer for the business. Furthermore, in the United Kingdom, AEGON will take significant steps aiming to improve return on capital by targeting cost reductions of 25% in life and pensions and refocusing the business on the growth market segments of At Retirement and Workplace Savings where AEGON has leading positions.

On July 8, 2010 AEGON successfully completed the sale of EUR 1,017,500,000 Class A residential mortgage-backed securities (RMBS) in a private placement with institutional investors.
