ARCADIS AQUMEN EXTENDS FACILITY MANAGEMENT CONTRACT WITH SABIC

July 1, 2010 – ARCADIS (EURONEXT: ARCAD), the international design, consulting, engineering and management services company, announced today that ARCADIS AQUMEN FACILITY MANAGEMENT (AAFM) has extended its facility management contract with SABIC. AAFM is a joint venture with the English Carillion. The extension covers a period of 3+1 years commencing back in January 2010. Emphasis will be on further standardization of services in the new contract without effecting quality. The entire value of the contract is €25 million. Additional financial details are not disclosed.

AAFM carries out facility management services for a number of office locations of SABIC. The activities encompass purchasing, building maintenance management, catering, cleaning, security, logistic services and transport of persons. The contract also covers cost savings targets which must be realised in conjunction with AAFM.

“SABIC is extremely satisfied with our services and is challenging us to continuously improve quality at lower costs. As a result of our independent position and extensive experience in this area, we can carry out our role very effectively. In addition, our help to improve the hospitality function of this European headquarters is a major target for SABIC,” comments Bernt Bouwmeester, Director of AAFM.
