

Media Advisory

Boeing, Royal Ten Cate, Stork Fokker and University of Twente establish Research Centre in The Netherlands

WHAT: Officials from Boeing, Royal Ten Cate, Stork Fokker and the University of Twente to sign an agreement later today to establish the Thermoplastic Composites Research Centre (TPRC) at the University of Twente in Enschede, The Netherlands.

A collective TPRC press release will be send to the media at 15.00 hours on Friday 12 June 2009.

WHO: Anne Flierman, president of the University of Twente
Jan Narlinge, president of Boeing Northern Europe
Loek de Vries, president and CEO of Royal Ten Cate
Jan de Jong, chief technology officer of Stork Fokker

WHEN: June 12, 2009
Signing ceremony, news conference
Starting at 14:00 (or 2 p.m. CET)
Ending at 15:15 (or 3:15 p.m. CET)

WHERE: De Grolsch Veste
TOS (Plus) en FC Twente Business (Plus)
Colosseum 65*
7521 PP Enschede
The Netherlands

- There are two entrances. Do not take the entrance on the side of the train station but the one on the opposite side.

CONTACTS: Contact general information:
Wiebe van der Veen
Press officer, University of Twente Communications
+31 53 489 4244/ +31 612185692
w.r.vanderveen@utwente.nl

Communication information about companies:
Eszter Ungar
Boeing International Communications
+32 2 777 07 26
eszter.ungar@boeing.com

Jaap de Carpentier Wolf
Royal Ten Cate, head corporate communication
+31 546 544 306
media@tencate.com

Marianne Mulder
Stork Fokker, Communications Manager
+31 78 6419848
marianne.mulder@stork.com