

Zeikon clarifies that repurchase of own shares will not result in Belgian taxation for Belgian-resident individuals

9 October 2013 – Zeikon N.V. ('Zeikon') clarifies that the current repurchase by Zeikon of own shares will not result in taxation in Belgium for Belgian-resident individuals selling their shares.

Zeikon hereby wishes to clarify, on the basis of a declaration of intent issued by the Belgian tax ruling commission, that no Belgian income tax (whether or not in the form of withholding tax) will be levied on payments to Belgian-resident individuals who sell their Zeikon shares to Zeikon.

This press release complements the press release issued by Zeikon on 20 September 2013 regarding, amongst others, the repurchase by Zeikon of its shares, and should be read in its entirety with that press release. This press release is for informative purposes only and is not intended and may not be construed as an offer to sell or a request to purchase or subscribe to any securities in Zeikon N.V.

About Zeikon

Zeikon NV (XEI: AEX) is an innovator in digital printing technology. The company designs, develops and delivers web-fed digital color presses for labels and packaging applications, document printing, as well as commercial printing. These presses utilize LED-array-based dry toner electrophotography, open workflow software and application-specific toners. As an OEM supplier, Zeikon designs and produces plate makers for newspaper offset printing applications. Zeikon also manufactures basysPrint computer-to-plate (CtP) solutions for the commercial printing market. These proven CtP systems combine the latest exposure techniques with cost-efficient UV plate technology, high imaging quality and flexibility. For the flexographic market, Zeikon offers digital platemaking systems under the ThermoFlexX brand name. ThermoFlexX systems provide high resolution plate exposure including screening, colour management, as well as workflow management. All the Zeikon solutions are designed with the overarching principles of profitability, quality, flexibility and sustainability in mind. With these guiding principles and a deep, intimate knowledge of its customers, Zeikon continues to be one of the industry's leading innovators of products and solutions.
