1. Introduction

These specifications for data submission is part of the request for data on statutory audits. Further information on this request for data is available on our website. With these specifications, it is possible to deliver data as an XML data file, the file format requested by the AFM, without the intervention of Excel. This document describes the requirements that the submission of data points has to meet. The AFM is thus giving parties the option of compiling a full dataset for each statutory audit and submitting this to the AFM in their own preferred manner.

1.1. Changes compared to 2023

The 2024 submission specification (version 1.3) does not have any substantive changes from the most recent 2023 version. However, some changes have been made to the Excel file, which will also impact the specifications in a future version. There are two comments on that under X-path "Basisgegevens / JuridischeGegevens / TypeWeCo" and "OpdrachtAanvaardingEnContinuïteit / Onafhankelijkheid / CategorieOnafhankelijkheidsBedreigingenVioArt16Lid2".

1.2. Structure of the request

The AFM data request for statutory audits is structured in six main sections:

1. Base data
2. Engagement acceptance and continuance
3. Risk assessment
4. Performance
5. Completion and formation of opinion
6. Hours spent

1.3. Format of the request

The reports should be submitted as XML files in which all the requested data are entered. XML has been chosen because of the possibilities this format offers for the submission and processing of data, the possibility to formally specify fields and structure and also to check this prior to submission and on receipt. Audit firms are free to create the required XML file as they wish, as long as this file meets the specifications stated in this document.

1.4. Relevant documents

A number of documents have been made available on our website for the preparation and submission of the reporting.

Title	Explanation
Submission specification for AFM data request for statutory audits (this document).	Describes the content and structure of the reporting, the definition of data points and the submission requirements.
List of frequently asked questions (FAQ)	List of FAQs on the AFM data request for statutory audits.
Schema for the XML file (XSD)	This is the XML Schema Definition (XSD) with specifications of data points and quality rules. Institutions wishing to generate the required XML file themselves can use the XSD for this purpose.

2. Scope

2.1. Period/term of the request

This request is continuous, and audit firms may choose from the following options for data submission:

- i. Submission of all statutory audits
- ii. Submission of statutory audits in phases (increasing proportion) (one third in 2022, two thirds in 2023 and all statutory audits in 2024).

The AFM is working towards a situation in which the data for each statutory audit is submitted not later than 60 days after the audit file is completed. This is also the statutory retention period stated in Section 11(5) of the Dutch Audit Firms (Supervision) Decree (Besluit toezicht Accountantsorganisaties). In the first year (2022), the AFM granted a general postponement until 31 December 2022.

The AFM's intention is to keep the request as stable as possible. The AFM evaluates the request annually on the basis of internal and external feedback. The AFM communicates any changes before 1 January of the financial year in question and updates the stated documents in a new version.

2.2. Reference date

All data relates to the financial year to which the statutory audit relates.

Version for information purposes only. Do not use this document to generate XML files for uploading to the AFM portal. Please use the Dutch version of this document available on our website for this purpose.

3. Data submission requirements

3.1. General requirements

There are certain requirements that apply to all elements of the reporting. These are explained below.

3.1.1. Amounts in thousands of euros

All requested data points involving amounts (x EUR 1,000) should be entered with a whole number that is either positive or negative (for the latter, see the value range as described for the relevant data point). Amounts may be rounded off, for example revenue of 87,234,400.22 may be entered as 87,234.

3.1.2. Positive and negative figures

For data points concerning whole figures, whether this may be a positive and/or negative figure is stated under the value range. 0 is also a valid value here.

Version for information purposes only. Do not use this document to generate XML files for uploading to the AFM portal. Please use the Dutch version of this document available on our website for this purpose.

4. Substantive requirements

This section describes the data points that are requested. These are summarised here, and further specification for each element is given in §4.1 to §4.6. The conventions for the data point descriptions are as follows:

- X-path refers to the location in the XSD.
- Functional requirements describe additional requirements that the data point must functionally meet.
- Technical requirements describe additional requirements that the data point must technically meet.
- Value range states whether a mandatory value range applies to the data point in question.

On submission, an XML file is validated against an XML schema / XSD. If the XML submitted does not comply with the XSD, the submission will be rejected. Validation using the XSD will establish whether:

- the reported data points meet the technical requirements
- the mandatory data points are submitted
- the correct data type is applied to each data point
- the stated values comply with the applicable value range

The AFM expects the provider of the reporting to ensure that the data entered are mutually consistent. The AFM will check the data against these validation rules on receipt. A full list of the applicable validation rules is given in §4.7.

4.1. Base data

This section concerns the data points to identify the audit firm, the external auditor and the statutory audit. Submission of this element is mandatory for every statutory audit data request.

X-path	OpdrachtAanvaardingEnContinuïteit/ProfielVanDeOpdracht/BeroepsEnOpdrachtrisicoOnderscheid
Definition	Does your organisation distinguish between professional risk and engagement risk?
Functional requirements	Various classifications of risk are applied in practice. Risks classified as equal to or lower than a normal risk are classified as 'normal'. Risks classified as higher than a normal risk are classified as 'enhanced'. In this case, the AFM refers to risk classifications at the time of signature of the auditor's opinion. Professional risk is the risk an auditor is exposed to as an economic operator and as a professional practitioner: the risk that their work or actions will be challenged. This risk is reflected for instance in damage claims, loss of reputation or loss of clients. Engagement risk is the risk that the auditor expresses an incorrect conclusion in a case where the information on an audited object concerns a material misstatement. Engagement risk does not refer to or concern business risk for the auditor, such as losing legal proceedings, negative publicity or other events occurring in the context of certain information on the audit object (Article 72 of the Template for Assurance Engagements).

Definition	How do you (as the external auditor) assess the challenges for the audit firm with respect to the expertise and capacity of the engagement team for the performance of the statutory audit?
Functional requirements	This concerns the challenges inherent in such an engagement. This assessment should be made without taking account of measures taken (possibly later) to address the challenges. Examples: Low: the necessary expertise and capacity available at the audit firm is more than adequate to be able to compose an engagement team to perform this statutory audit. Limited: the necessary expertise and capacity at the audit firm is available to be able to compose an engagement team to perform this statutory audit. It requires limited adjustments to the assignment of the members in some engagement teams at the audit firm. Normal: the necessary expertise and capacity at the audit firm is available to be able to compose an engagement team to perform this statutory audit. It however requires adjustments to the assignment of the members in several engagement teams at the audit firm. Enhanced: the necessary expertise and capacity available at the audit firm available to be able to compose an engagement team to perform this statutory audit is limited. Acceptance or continuance of this engagement requires one or more of the following measures: a) an increase or temporary hire of audit personnel. b) the recruitment or temporary hire of personnel with specific expertise. c) a decision to not continue other statutory audits.
